Strong opposition to K of C proposal

By SUSAN SIGNAGO-WEICH of the Press-Record
More than 20 angry residents expressed displeasure Thursday over the Granite City Plan Commission's recommendation that the Knights of Columbus be allowed to rezone the former Johnson School from an R-3 (residential) to a C-3 (commercial) property; but the commission ended up endorsing the rezoning. The Knights of Columbus bought the property from Granite City School District Nine for $387,000 earlier this spring.

The Plan Commission, which usually holds its meetings in the mayor's conference room, was forced to change its location to a courtroom at City Hall because of the large number of objectors.

ANDY MIOFSKY, a local attorney who represents the Knights of Columbus, told the Plan Commission that the club's intended uses for the Johnson School facility would include meeting rooms, a reception hall and a public social lounge. Miosky said most of the construction changes that would be done would

Pates is arrested in Pontoon Beach

Accompanied by three Madison County sheriff's deputies, a lieutenant from the same department, Pontoon Beach Patrolman Michael Crouch responded to a disturbance call at 4216 E. Lake Drive early Friday morning.

Normally such backup is not necessary, explained Pontoon Beach Police Chief Chet Ballew later Friday, but this particular disturbance complaint was filed by Evelyn Pates, sister of Robert E. Pates.

QUAD-CITYANS may remember that it was Robert Pates who allegedly set fire to a jail cell in the Harrison County Jail in Biliotti, Miss., in November 1982 that left 27 persons dead. Pates was acquitted of any intentional wrongdoing in the case and was released.

The blaze that killed 27 and injured 61 others, including firefighters, inmates and support personnel, is believed to have started in Pates' isolation cell, where matches and belongings are not allowed. Pates claims he fell asleep smoking a cigarette given to him by two women inmates. Since then, Pates race with a time of 26 minutes, 46 seconds. More than 225 persons ran in five-mile race and the simultaneous one-mile fun run. Trophies were awarded to the fastest runners in each age bracket, in addition to top male and female runners in the five-mile race. (Press-Record Photo by Patrick Foley)

Potential school financial remedies

By BILL WINTER of the Press-Record

Financial remedies are within reach of the debt-plagued Granite City school district and could be implemented this year, a report by Supt. B.J. Davis indicated at last week's Board of Education meeting.

Education fund resources not currently being utilized include the possibility of a November tax election boosting the rate limit up to 40 cents per $100 assessed valuation. WORKING CASH BONDS have no limit except that they cannot exceed 75 percent of tax revenues for the current year. Davis said.

They can be issued by board resolution, subject to a "backdoor referendum." The only restriction is that at the time of issuing working cash fund bonds, the district cannot have an outstanding working cash fund, nor levy a working cash fund tax at that time. It was explained.

BUILDING REPAIR priorities are to be set by the board with the help of information gathered during a May 22 tour of District Nine facilities.

It was decided to seek bids immediately on insurance-financed roof repairs and on approximately $38,000 of roofing work at portions of Granite City High School and Niedringhaus Elementary School.

With millions of dollars worth of school improvements needed, the most serious needs on the overall repair and maintenance list total $700,000. Ronald Landman, director of buildings and grounds, told the board

THE ESTIMATE of $798,000, which includes the $38,000 for roofing at GCHS and Niedringhaus, also consists of:

—$450,000 boiler work at the GCHS cafeteria, GCHS gymnasium and Coolidge Junior High.

—$80,000 for a GCHS elevator for the handicapped.

—AN ADDITIONAL $50,000 GCHS roof work.

$45,000 for GCHS science laboratory renovation.

Layoffs won't harm care at SEMC, president pledges

By GARY SCHNEIDER Press-Record Editor

In addition to the 50 or so employees who may be laid off at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, about 60 others have been offered a "generous package" to take early voluntary retirement, according to Sister Mary Thomas, SEMC president.

Persons age 50 or older have been offered incentives to retire now, she says, which may reduce the number of younger employees who must be laid off. "Our personnel department estimates that about half of those offered the early retirement package will accept," Sister noted.

THEN, WHEN the number who must be laid off has been determined, layoffs will be on the basis of seniority within the various job classifications.

She said most employees age 60 and older "are very, very pleased with the package we have offered them. People not 60 are saying they wish they were so they could take advantage. Others are saying they are glad we have the 'heart' to take care of our people's long term welfare," she noted.

Layoffs and staff reductions by retirement are necessary, she says, due to the changing nature of the health care industry nationwide, not just in Granite City. She says Medicare's switch to Diagnostic Related Groups (DRGs) to determine how much the government will pay for treatment of various types of diseases and injuries has cut into the hospital's financing.

OTHER FACTORS forcing hospitals to cut back are downgraded employee health insurance packages which make employees pay a portion (usually 20 percent) of the cost of hospital care. This has forced employees to choose outpatient care when possible and to postpone or cancel elective surgery, in-hospital physical examinations and non-essential tests.

Saving money in some areas will help provide sufficient funds for the medical center to attract and keep qualified doctors and other certified specialists, she said. "We believe that the layoffs will enhance the quality of care. By reducing our staff, we will have more money available to keep up with competitive salaries that will enable us to keep and recruit quality personnel. We will also be able to purchase the equipment we need to give our patients the best of care," Sister Mary Thomas said.

Layoffs on the basis of seniority in each job classification are the only fair way to reduce staff, she said.

(See related editorial) "We do not believe that anyone's interests are served if layoffs are used as a method of discipline. If an employee's performance is below standard, there should be appropriate action taken and the employee should have the opportunity to work problems out. If the situation proves to be irreconcilable and the employee is either unable or unwilling to improve performance, the employee should be discharged, not laid off."

"IF SUBSTANDARD employees are laid off, their names will appear on the 'call-back' list and, as positions open, they will be called back to work and the whole problem will begin again. If these employees are discharged, they obviously will not be called back, nor will they displace good employees on the 'call-back' list," Sister said.

It is important to note, she said, that SEMC served more patients in the first quarter of this year than in the same period of 1983, but that the patients have either been in for shorter periods or they have elected for out-patient surgery and services.

That is not expected to change, she said. "We do not think this is a temporary situation. Our current posi-

Summer camp offered for children with arthritis

When you think of childhood, what do you think of? Is it swimming, playing outdoors in the sunshine? We like to think all children enjoy these activities. The fact is, some are limited by Juvenile Rheumatoid Arthritis, commonly known as JRA. The Eastern Missouri Chapter of the Arthritis Foundation reports there are as many as 250,000 children inhibited by JRA.

Children have a child with JRA you should consider the following for his or her summer vacation. The Eastern Missouri Chapter of the Arthritis Foundation is offering a summer camping program in cooperation with the Kiwanis Camp in Kansas, Mo.

Reservations for up to 20 children with JRA will be taken starting immediately through the Eastern Missouri Chapter of the Arthritis Foundation. The session will be July 9-13, will cost $300 per child.

Scholarships are available through the Arthritis Foundation for individuals qualifying for financial assistance. Parents of children with JRA interested in the summer camping program may call the Arthritis Foundation at 1-314-533-1324 or 1-800-392-7634 or write 4144 Lindell Blvd., St. Louis, Mo., 63108.

MOTORCYCLIST INJURED IN ACCIDENT WITH PICKUP

Gerald B. Bailey, 32, of St. Louis, was treated for injuries at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, after his motorcycle collided with a pickup truck on the McKinley Bridge last week.

The driver of the pickup was Franklin D. Hays, 45, of 4609 Sycamore Ave. Bailey's motorcycle struck the back of Hays' truck. Bailey was released from the hospital later.

Driver hurt when light pole breaks

Joseph A. Sumner, 21, of 2826 Myrtle Ave., was injured during the weekend when the car he was driving allegedly struck and broke a street light pole, which fell onto a parked pickup truck.

Sumner's car was traveling south on Warren Avenue when it hit the pole in front of 2832 Warren, causing the pole to fall and damage the pickup of Michael T. Gavin, who resides there.

The motorist agreed to take a breathalyzer test, which was administered by an Illinois State Police trooper, and Sumner was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol. He was released after posting a $302 cash bond.

Orders 2-year sentence in 1982 local theft case

A two-year term in an Illinois penitentiary has been ordered by Circuit Judge Philip Rarick, to be served by Gary O. Jackson, 28, of Alhambra.

Jackson was charged Aug. 12, 1982, with committing an armed robbery and a felony theft, both in Madison, court records show.

The robbery count was dismissed March 5, 1984, on a motion by the state's attorney. The prison sentence was based on the theft charge.

SERVE THEFT WARRANT

Jerry L. Tipton, 22, of 3 Queensbury Court, was turned over to Granite City police by a Pontoon Beach officer last week on a warrant alleging theft. Tipton was taken before a judge and was released on recognizance.

Chouteau watching progress of annexation legislation

By DONNA KIMBRO of the Press-Record

The continuous threat of annexation remains uppermost in the minds of all township officials as they watch the slow process in the state legislature in passing House Bill 1591, sponsored by Rep. Don Hensel, to eliminate the problem.

Chouteau Township Supervisor Walter "Dick" Sparks attended several meetings in Springfield and advised the Chouteau Town Board of Trustees last week of the latest developments regarding the house bill.

SPARKS READ a letter from George H. Miller, executive director of the Township Officials of Illinois, in which he said in part—Briefly, current law provides that when a coextensive city-township annexes into an adjacent township, the township boundaries automatically change with the boundaries of the city.

In the last 10 years, annexation of vacant, industrial or commercial properties by six coextensive city-townships has resulted in the loss of more than $1 billion in assessed valuation to approximately 40 adjacent townships in the state. Despite this loss, those 40 have been required to maintain township services mandated by statute (road maintenance, general assistance and others).

Also House Bill 1591 requires that when a coextensive city-township proposes annexations, a referendum approving it must be conducted in both the annexed and annexing township if the township boundaries are to change. If no referendum is conducted, the city may annex but the township boundaries may not change. The bill includes provisions that exempt annexations of residential property from the referendum provision and that retain the coterminous status in their present geographical areas.

WHILE THE present law only affects 40 townships, its provisions could ultimately eliminate all of them (two are all but gone today, Sparks said), therefore permitting annexation into the next and on and on. The entire structure of township government is therefore endangered.

In conjunction with the present status of the bill, Sparks announced he wrote letters to all supervisors for their support as well as contacting all legislators from this area to request their support.

The supervisor also announced the township received replacement tax in the amount of $2,438 for the road and bridge fund and $1,916 for the general assistance fund.

INTEREST CHECKS in the amount of $1,335 and $462 were received this month, Sparks added.

Board approval was granted to purchase stainless steel flatware to replace missing silverware in the kitchen of the township hall at a cost of $37.31 and to order additional serving spoons.

Sparks read several bids for chemicals to be used in the mosquito abatement project and Steve Novosel made a motion he purchase the chemical from the lowest bidder. The trustees agreed to buy the chemical from Crown Industries in St. Louis at a cost of $17 for a 55-gallon drum.

SPARKS TOUCHED briefly on the debate at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville of representatives of county taxing districts and its effect on the people in relation to Madison County's use of interest earned on property taxes.

Changes in the revenue sharing category of the township budget from $51,483 to $54,502 upped the total appropriations to $221,081, instead of $219,162 as was previously reported.

A breakdown of the changes were in financial administrative, etc., from $20,000 to $20,500 and operations—utilities—maintenance from $10,000 to $11,000 and changing the audit figure from $425 to $850 and an additional $1,094 for the purchase of three radios for the South Roxana Police Department.

COUNCIL FORMED TO EXPORT ILLINOIS FIRMS' PRODUCTS

A new Illinois Export Council will coordinate and encourage the export of Illinois products to the rest of the world. Lieutenant Governor George Ryan will chair the 19-member panel, which will meet quarterly and issue yearly reports. It will work within the Department of Commerce and Community Affairs.

Illinois, through DCCA, has been marketing its products overseas and is now in third place in total manufacturing exports.

Ruth, 15, victim of abuse, needs family

Fifteen-year-old Ruth was abused by her stepfather. Faced with the choice of protecting her daughter or losing her husband, Ruth's mother rejected her. As a result, this young victim needs a home.

Described as a quiet, pleasant and personable child, Ruth has long brown hair and blue eyes. She is petite and attractive.

Unlike many children who have been rejected by their parents, she is not a behavior problem. "Ruth genuinely wants a family," according to Karen Richardson, a social worker with the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services.

"She gets along well with both adults and other children and follows rules. A good student, she enjoys school and likes to participate in extracurricular activities. Ruth is active in various sports, including track and gymnastics. She also enjoys skating in her spare time."

"Because of her easy-going nature and positive outlook, Ruth would adjust in most placement situations. Since she gets along well with other children and loves babies, she would do well in a home with other children."

"While two-parent families are preferred for younger children, teens like Ruth frequently do well with single foster parents who have time to share and the ability to set and enforce reasonable, common-sense rules," Miss Richardson said.

In any case, Ruth's foster parent should encourage and allow her to take part in after-school activities. "Although most foster children are eventually able to return home, Ruth is expected to remain in foster care until she is 18. As a result, her foster parent should encourage her to both plan for her educational needs and to acquire the survival skills that she will need to make it on her own."

Persons interested in caring for Ruth or in learning more about the department's foster home programs may call Jane Heathcote at 876-8965.

Accident results in arrest of three

Timothy P. Cox, 18, of 2124 Dewey Ave., was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol, leaving the scene of an accident and being a minor in possession of alcohol, following an accident at 10:35 p.m. Monday.

Cox allegedly was operating a vehicle which struck at parked car belonging to Judy A. Johnson, 2038 Bryan Ave., and left the scene.

The auto was located five minutes later at 21st Street and Dewey Avenue, but was occupied by a woman, Mary Ann Westbrook, 20, of 4485 Vine Blvd., who alleged Cox was driving her auto and had ran to his home. He was arrested there and reportedly declined a breath test, reports said.

An open keg of beer was in the back seat of the vehicle, reports alleged.

Two warrants, citing failure to appear in court on charges of disobeying a stop sign and speeding, were active against Miss Westbrook, who also was charged with being a minor in possession of alcohol.

John R. Krug, 17, of 2406 Illinois Ave., a passenger, was charged with being a minor in possession of alcohol.

In court appearances at 1 p.m. Tuesday, Miss Westbrook and Krug pleaded innocent and were released on recognizance.

Cox also pleaded innocent and bond was set at $300.

SEMC layoffs based on service

The Press-Record expressed some concern last week when we learned that layoffs at St. Elizabeth Medical Center were to be based, by department, on seniority and not on job performance.

We feel that in the health care field, only the very best should be working on our bodies and saving our lives.

Sister Mary Thomas, SEMC president, agrees that there have been some complaints about the seniority method of layoffs, but explained, "We do not believe that anyone's interests are served if layoffs are used as a method of discipline."

She says that anyone not performing to SEMC's standards should have been weeded out a long time ago. Ineffective employees should be "discharged, not laid off," she says. That way, their names will not appear on the recall lists of employees who may be called back, "nor will they displace good employees on the call-back list," she says.

Assuming that she is correct that only effective, efficient and qualified personnel remain at the medical center, then seniority becomes the only fair way to decide who is to be laid off.

We expressed our concern when seniority was used by the Granite City School Board to decide which teachers kept their jobs and which were laid off last year. We feel the district lost some of its best teachers in the deal. Our children are the ones now suffering. The school board says it was bound by a union contract to do the layoffs on the basis of seniority.

Fortunately, SEMC is not bound by a union contract to those who is to take care of us on a seniority basis. We hope the administration will use some flexibility in special cases where qualifications and job performance clearly are more important to the patients than seniority.

We, like Sister Mary Thomas, want to see that when we go to SEMC, we will receive the absolute best care that can be provided.

Draft exemption proposal fair

A proposal has been made by U.S. Sen. Charles Percy (R-Ill.) to exempt young men from the peacetime draft if their mothers have been killed in the line of duty in the military.

The proposal, submitted to the Senate Armed Services Subcommittee on Manpower and Personnel, only makes sense. The current law is sexist, outdated and fails to recognize that many of today's mothers contribute significantly to the family income.

William I. Caldwell Jr. of Woodstock, Ill., sent Percy a letter in September 1983 noting "the commitment to equality that America now represents and pointing out the inequity of drafting young men if their mothers have been killed in the military, but not if their fathers were killed."

Percy brought the proposal to Thomas Turnage, director of the Selective Service System, and Turnage agreed that the rules should be changed and "may even be constitutionally necessary to assure equal protection under the law."

Percy's bill now goes to the full Armed Services Committee for action and will require the approval of the full Senate and House.

We think it is a fair proposal and support its passage.

GC Council hires treatment plant worker

Granite City Council members voted 11 to two Tuesday night to hire Alfred Watson at the city's sewage treatment plant. Watson will be filling a vacancy created at the plant by Raymond Lindsey, who resigned about a month ago.

Opposing the measure was Alderman Paul Fisk, chairman of the sewage treatment plant committee, who said that the worker's union contract states that all plant employees have a Class 5 Wastewater Operator's License. Watson has had no formal training as a wastewater operator.

However, according to Schuler, who suggested the appointment, the union has been consulted and has agreed to waive this requirement.

Terry McMillan, superintendent of the wastewater treatment plant, said that a Class 5 Wastewater Operator's License is achieved upon completion of one wastewater course and a grade of 70 or higher on an examination.

McMillan said the course may indirectly prepare the student to pass the examination, but that it is not designed for such. A course has been defined as three quarter hours, two semester hours or three continuing education units.

The three continuing education units, according to McMillan, may be achieved through a three-day, 24-hour seminar. These seminars are offered at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, through the Environmental Resource Training Center. McMillan said such a course would cost about $130.

McMillan said that it is his understanding however, that since the union waived this requirement, Watson should be required to get an operator's license.

McMillan stated at the meeting that new employees at the plant generally get a job that other employees "don't want." He said traditionally, new employees have taken loads of sludge to the landfill in Belleville and have filled in for other men who are on vacation.

Alderman Jake Varadani, who cast the only other dissenting vote on the hiring, said he feels the mayor should give unemployed residents a chance to apply for city positions instead of appointing someone without advertising the opening. He said he also feels the city should honor the contract agreements with employee unions.

Watson currently is employed in the driver's license bureau.

Regional sewage bill passes in the House

The Illinois House of Representatives has passed two bills sponsored by State Rep. Sam Wolf (D-Granite City) which would establish the Metro-East area as a regional sanitary district.

The district will allow a merging of the sanitary systems of Granite City, the Metro-East Sanitary District and the Madison County Special Sewer District into one district, thus the purpose of treating waste from areas served by the three areas at Granite City's primary and secondary sewage treatment plants.

According to Wolf, "The cost of building secondary waste facilities is a tremendous expense and one local municipality should be able to make. I have proposed the establishment of a regional sanitary district so that each separate municipality will not have to go through the expense of building and operating a sewerage treatment facility. A regional approach would be much more cost effective," he said.

House Bills 2507 and 2429 are similar in that they both provide for a regional sanitary district including Granite City, Madison, Venice, Washington Park, Fairview Heights, National City, Caseyville, Glen Carbon and unincorporated territories in Nameoki and Chouteau townships, Wolf said. The bills would change the statutes that prohibit communities from being in more than one sanitary district. The bills now move to the Senate for discussion.

We urge anyone concerned with the awesome possibilities this bill has for setting an irreparably damaging precedent to contact their state senator expressing their concern. Express your individual preference on this bill before the opportunity for such expression has been eroded forever.

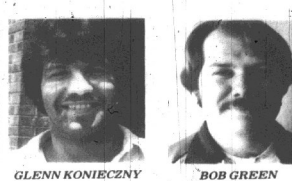

AMERICA'S legal system, our body of law, is constantly evolving. Allowing this law to be placed on the books moves our society one step closer to the total elimination of individual and personal freedoms.

With the recent election of Reagan Administration backed Jose Napoleon Duarte as president of El Salvador, students at Granite City Center Friday were asked about Central America, and if they thought relations and conditions in a Central American country would improve with Duarte's success. Their reactions follow:

Glenn Konieczny, Fairview Heights

"Even with a new president down there I don't think things are going to get much better, at least not right away. Things have been the way they are for too long. Nothing's going to happen overnight. I do support Reagan's policies there. I think we should be down there."

Bob Green, Granite City

"I think things will probably get worse, primarily because of the Communist pull down there. We're pulling one way and they're (Communists) pulling the other. I suspect that the aid to the rebels will increase with Duarte's election. Definitely, I definitely support our presence down there. I've never been one to support isolation policies. If we're going to get involved we should do so without hesitation."

Scott Gruenke, Fairview Heights

"No matter who's elected down there factions are going to fight. It's a no-win situation for the leader of El Salvador, whoever it is. If we're going to be involved down there we should do it in a big way. Go in, take care of the rebels and assist the elected president in setting up the government the people want — like Grenada. None of this covert stuff."

Ken Johnson, Granite City

"Things should work out for the better with the new president, just as long as the Cubans remain out. Duarte's election will probably help our cause down there. It's just like anything else, we need to get the Communists out of our hemisphere."

The Form Parents Without Partners is worthwhile

To the Editor:

There is an organization in Granite City that I feel needs to be made known to single parents.

Parents Without Partners is an international, non-profit, non-sectarian, educational organization devoted to the interests and well-being of single parents and their children.

Anyone is eligible for membership who is a parent of at least one living child and is single for any reason.

Prospective members are welcome to attend any or all of the calendar events and meetings for a period of 45 days after attending an orientation.

General meetings are held once a month, the third Wednesday of each month at the DAV Hall, 117 Nineteenth St. New members (prospective) may attend an orientation at the general meeting and then will be issued a courtesy card.

PWP has events planned for family affairs as well as adult entertainment.

The single parent in our society is isolated to some degree. The difficulty of providing both ourselves and our children a reasonably normal family life is increased by that isolation. Therefore, PWP feels that we can achieve this through working together, exchanging ideas and mutual understanding.

Further information can be obtained by contacting Bob Young at 492-0162 or Sherry Swiecki at 452-1578.

CUB contributions help fight utilities

To the Editor:

In the last five years, Illinois citizens have been subjected to an unprecedented series of back-breaking increases in their phone, gas and electric bills.

Year after year, consumers have watched helplessly as an army of utility company lawyers have marched into the Illinois Commerce Commission (ICC) demanding rate hike after rate hike for their clients.

Clearly it's time for Illinois' beleaguered consumers to organize a movement to get control of utility rates.

Now Illinois consumers can even up the odds in the rate-making battle by joining the Citizens Utility Board (CUB). CUB was established by law last year after a long battle spearheaded by the Coalition for political honesty.

The purpose of the Citizens Utility Board is to hire lawyers, accountants, and engineers to represent the public in rate hearings before the ICC.

Not a single penny of taxpayer money will be spent on the board. Instead, money for the board will be raised entirely from voluntary citizen contributions.

Anyone interested can join the Illinois Citizens Utility Board by becoming a member for just $5 a year. This small investment qualifies a member to participate in all CUB activities, including voting for a 22-member board of directors elected from each Congressional District in the state.

In Wisconsin, 100,000 citizens have joined their Citizens Utility Board, which has already fought for the public in more than 50 rate-making cases.

By pooling small donations from thousands of Illinois ratepayers into a well-organized Citizens Utility Board, consumers in our state will have the resources and muscle to effectively challenge utility companies and their never-ending requests for rate hikes.

Anyone interested in becoming a CUB member may send a $5 check to the Illinois Citizens Utility Board, Box 5382, Chicago, IL 60680.

Oppose mandatory seat belt usage law

To the Editor:

Legislation establishing criminal penalties against free adults who fail to use seat-belts in their vehicles narrowly passed the Illinois House of Representatives May 16. In our opinion, this bill is one of the most dangerous, statist and oppressive piece of legislation to be passed by a legislative body in decades.

The bill is frighteningly reminiscent of George Orwell's "Big Brother" concept as expressed in his novel about complete elimination of human freedoms and dignity, fittingly titled "1984."

When society purports to protect each citizen from every potential harm, the possibilities for abuse and absurdity are overwhelming. Pro-law maintain that mandatory seat-belt use can save lives. This may or may not be true depending on a particular individual's circumstances.

A number of citizens through their personal experiences feel that seat-belts are unsafe in their use in some circumstances, such as accidents involving fire or submersion in water, is hazardous. Cases have been reported of otherwise minor "water benders" resulting in crushed hips and pelvises due directly to the usage of seat belts.

In our opinion, the odds against fatal or seriously injurious accidents are significantly reduced when passengers in vehicles wear seat belts. Nonetheless, we remain adamantly opposed to this legislation MANDATING seat-belt usage based on our firm commitment to personal liberty and our belief in the native intelligence of the citizenry of this state.

We believe that any person qualified to drive an automobile is equally qualified to decide for him or herself whether or not to wear the safety belt which, by law, is standard equipment in every vehicle.

More importantly, we believe that mandating seat-belt usage—no matter how admirable those habits might be—is a horrendous precedent to set. To take this concept to its logical conclusion would be to impose criminal penalties on the over-consumption of cholesterol, the use of all alcohol, caffeine and tobacco, any employment involving undue stress or the lack of adequate exercise.

Clearly these impositions against the concept of individual liberty are unthinkable to most of us. They range from improbable to laughable. Prohibition has been tried and found to be completely unworkable. Likewise, criminal penalties for the over-consumption of fast food or the failure to wear a seat-belt should be dismissed by forward-thinking citizens.

At the present time, there are countless dangerous and violent criminals, killers, rapists, armed robbers and drunk drivers among them, going unprosecuted because law enforcement agents do not have enough resources to apprehend them. It makes no sense to subject potentially 10 million Illinois drivers to criminal penalties and prosecution because they have chosen to pursue a course of action that is in their judgment, best for them.

This bill and the impending Senate vote on it, signify the essence of individual freedom, the core of a free society, a foreboding image of the complete and total death of liberty.

America's legal system, our body of law, is constantly evolving. Allowing this law to be placed on the books moves our society one step closer to the total elimination of individual and personal freedoms.

We urge anyone concerned with the awesome possibilities this bill has for setting an irreparably damaging precedent to contact their state senator expressing their concern. Express your individual preference on this bill before the opportunity for such expression has been eroded forever.

Contents construction cost exaggerated

To the Editor:

In recent St. Louis newspaper article, headlined, "High Labor Costs Hurt East Side Construction," Bi-State was quoted as saying that labor costs were "something like 50 percent higher" in Illinois than in Missouri. While it is true that there is some difference between the two states, the exact percentage is difficult, if not impossible, to estimate.

The difference is not in union wages, which are comparable in the two states for the same work. The difference is in overhead-increased contractor costs for such things as insurance for workers compensation, which is higher in Illinois, and other Illinois-peculiar things such as the so-called "scaffolding act."

Our newspaper quote was based on 1982 information intended for use in making budget estimates of costs to build a new Bi-State bus station garage in East St. Louis that would be similar to one recently built in Brentwood, Mo. The Brentwood garage is now operating and the East St. Louis garage should be completed this year. The latest cost comparisons between the two garages show that the final Brentwood cost was $45 per square-foot and the East St. Louis cost to date is $52 per square-foot — a 16 percent difference. Final East St. Louis garage costs are not expected to increase beyond $54 per square-foot —

a 20 percent higher unit price than Brentwood.

Since the two facilities were constructed about 17 months apart, inflation must be blamed for much of the difference in unit prices due to inflation. This leaves a 3 percent current difference in unit cost which could increase to a 7 percent difference before the East St. Louis project is complete.

Children should be taught how to avoid sexual abuse

By FATHAY LUTZ
for the Press-Record

If statistics usually bore you, check these — 30-46 percent of all children are sexually assaulted, before the age of 18, and 85 percent of the time, the child is molested by someone he or she knows and trusts. Preying on the child's innocence, a friend, neighbor, or relative can sexually molest the child, and if the child feels too ashamed to tell the parents, the abuse can go undetected for many years.

To defend children against sexual abuse, parents must arm them with information in a comfortable, factual manner. Explaining tactics the child can utilize in preventing or reporting abuse in a candid fashion will best equip a child to cope with the problem.

SINCE THE MAJORITY of abuse comes from someone known to the child, parents should focus instructions on what constitutes sexual abuse not the potential source of the abuse. For example, telling children to refuse gifts from strangers and to refrain from talking to strangers is important, but this information limits their protection from abuse to a minimum.

The first step is to teach children body parts, including the correct names of genital, anal and breast areas. The use of proper names is extremely important, because parents are telling their children that it's proper to talk about these areas, thereby enabling them to reveal specific details of a possible assault.

Guidelines provided by Child Protective Services suggest that as early as 2-years-of-age, children be taught that the areas covered by their bathing suits are "private zones" and that they tell potential offenders. "That part of my body is private, so please don't touch me there. They should also be instructed that they should never consent to touch anyone else's "private zones."

ALL TOO OFTEN, children are dependent upon adults for the rules which govern their lives, so parents should give them the control over their own bodies by teaching them that confrontation with an abusive adult presents a situation where they should argue or fight to defend themselves.

Parents should practice with their children, teaching them to say, "Don't do that, I'm not allowed" and to run away offers the best defense. Children also should learn that it is unfair for any fault to ask them to keep secrets. Teach them to report any incident that makes them feel "funny" or "bad," giving the names of the people they can tell. If a child has been properly trained about the "private zones," then he or she should not hesitate to report the violation.

If a child tells an adult that he or she has been sexually abused, the adult should believe the child. Children seldom lie about being sexually abused, so the adult should assure the child that he or she has done the right thing by telling. Adults should try to remain calm and make sure that the child understands that the abuse is not his or her fault. Specific details should be obtained and the child told that adults will take care of the situation. Parents should not confront the offender, but instead should call the Child Abuse Hotline, 1-800-235-2873, and follow their instructions.

IN THE EVENT that a child may report the incident to someone who does not believe him or her, parents should instruct the child to tell someone else and not let an insensitive adult prevent a child from getting the help he or she needs.

If a child makes no mention of incidents involving sexual abuse but suddenly becomes withdrawn, begins to exhibit precocious sex play or engages in self-destructive behavior, parents should investigate. Parents should assure children that difficulties they may be having, even though they may not be sexually related, can be worked out with the parents' help.

With sexual abuse occurring at such an alarmingly high rate among our children, parents must actively work to prevent the increase of such abuse. The nature of the crime requires parents to frankly discuss "private zones" with their children, but possible embarrassment for parents is certainly a small price to pay for the prevention of such atrocities and the psychological protection of their children.

Mental Health Month observed locally

Mental Health Services, Southern Madison County, Inc., has joined with the other 630 members of the National Council of Community Mental Health Centers as mental health agencies nationwide in observing May as Mental Health Month. Along with other community mental health centers, Mental Health Services is using the theme, "Community Care for a Caring Community" to emphasize its unique role in the mental health care system.

In commenting on the observance, John Rush, president of the board of directors, said, "Mental Health Month provides us the opportunity to focus public attention on the mental health needs of our community. The theme, 'Community Care for a Caring Community,' reiterates our commitment to providing services in a community setting and recognizes the community's support for meeting the mental health needs of its citizens," he explained.

"Through their community mental health center, residents of Madison County have access locally to services designed to promote mental 'wellness' and treat a variety of mental health related problems," Rush continued. "Mental Health Services is part of a nationwide system of agencies delivering care at the local level. Although established just 20 years ago, this system provided services last year to an estimated 4.5 million Americans who otherwise might not have access to mental health care. We are very proud of that record.

"There are, however, still far too many people who are not receiving the care they need. The Council for Understanding Mental Illnesses estimates that some 19 million Americans with mental health-related problems do not seek any kind of counseling, treatment or other mental health services," he noted.

"Increased awareness of mental illness and mental health care can assist in breaking down some of this reluctance to request help. Mental Health Services offers prevention and education programs which contribute to public understanding and encourage people to take advantage of the services they need," he said.

"There is a wide range of mental health resources in this area, and, during Mental Health Month, we urge everyone to familiarize themselves with all the available services," he added. Mental Health Services has counseling offices at 115 South Main St., Edwardsville; 1315 Vandavia, Collinsville; 508 Broadway, Highland and 2021 State St., in Granite City. In addition, Mental Health Services operates a day treatment program; a residential program; Parents Plus, a teenage parenting program and the Early Enrichment Program, a school mental health service.

Mental Health Services is one of the sponsoring agencies of Crisis Services of Madison County, a 24-hour emergency mental health service. For more information, interested persons may call 877-4420.

More than $2.5 million in state funds have been approved for release to help meet the expenses of the Bi-State Development Agency. Governor James R. Thompson announced Friday.

The funds are part of the state's annual contribution to the mass transit system in the Metro-East area. Last week, the governor announced the approval of another $2.5 million for 11 other downstate cities and mass transit systems.

Approved for release from the Bi-State Public Transportation Fund was $2,575,221, an amount equal to 2/32nds of the state sales tax col-which operation was designed to make her sterile. Five years later, she began to experience signs of pregnancy. But the local hospital's gynecology clinic told her she was not pregnant. Later, she learned that she was in fact pregnant, and she gave birth to a child.

Childbirth carries obligations

It should be noted that both children born to these mothers were normal and healthy in every respect. Therefore, the issue before the court in these cases was whether the parents can recover as damages the costs involved in rearing a normal, healthy child when medical malpractice led to the birth of this child.

The Illinois Supreme Court recently decided what damages parents can recover in a case of "wrongful pregnancy" or "wrongful birth." These cases generally involve medical malpractice by a physician in attempting to sterilize a husband or wife, which results in the birth of an unplanned child. Illinois Courts have decided that the parents in this type of case can recover for the pain of childbirth, the time lost in having the child, and for all medical expenses involved. The real issue before the Illinois Supreme Court in the most recent case, however, was whether the parents can recover as damages the future expenses of raising the children.

This issue was raised in two separate medical malpractice cases which were brought together on appeal. In the first case, the doctor performed a vasectomy on the husband and later informed the couple that a sperm test conducted by the laboratory showed no live sperm. Subsequent to these medical procedures, the wife became pregnant and gave birth to a child. In the second case, the couple alleged that the doctor negligently performed a bilateral tubal cauterization on the wife,

Driver fined $850 after police chase

Darren L. Stafford, 24, of 2224 Dewey Ave., was charged with fleeing and attempting to elude a police officer, driving with a suspended license and reckless driving when arrested last week in the 2200 block of Dewey.

An auto allegedly operated by Stafford was initially seen by an officer sliding sideways while rounding a curve in the 2400 block of Missouri Avenue, heading south.

The officer turned his squad car around and chased the vehicle west on 24th Street and then south on Illinois Avenue, where the same car allegedly was seen traveling without lights.

Stafford reportedly had to be removed from the car when the vehicle was located. In a court appearance Monday, he pleaded guilty and was fined $850. He also was placed under six months supervision on the reckless driving charge and was released.

child. It is important to note that studies indicate that the cost of raising a normal child is probably well in excess of one million dollars.

Some states have allowed recovery in this situation on the theory that the negligent physician should bear the responsibility for the consequences of his actions. Other states have denied recovery in suits for costs of rearing a child based on the reasoning that it would impose an unreasonable burden on the physician. The courts following this latter approach have pointed out that it would be unreasonable to allow the parents to enjoy the benefits of parenthood while shifting all expenses to the negligent doctor.

The Illinois Supreme Court decided that the parents in these cases should be allowed to recover the costs of rearing a normal child. The court pointed out that the public policy of preserving family relations made this decision necessary. They felt that to allow recovery in this type of case could lead to the terrible spectacle of parents disparaging the worth of their children or their affection for them in open court.

Bostic fills in at YMCA annual dinner

Joe Bostic, a five-year veteran with the St. Louis Football Cardinals, filled in at the Tri-City Area YMCA's annual dinner meeting last week for Dan Dierdorf, the scheduled guest speaker, who was unable to attend.

Bostic, who has been in the NFL since 1979, has been playing guard for the Big Red and is expected to be a starter this year.

He told of the importance of the YMCA to his while he was growing up. He said too many families rely on schools to raise the children when organizations such as churches, YMCA's, the Salvation Army and others are available. "Finally, when it's too late, the police take over," he said.

Bostic speculated that the Cardinals will have a good season this year. "We have a very, very good chance of being a really good football team this year," he stated, adding, "You (the fans) are going to see a new group of offensive linemen. I am so much looking forward to this year."

He said the Cardinals are gaining depth and flexibility and said this is the first time in years the Big Red has not gone into the first round of the draft with an immediate need to fill one position.

Answering a question on the new USFL, Bostic said, "It's more speculation whether it's good or bad. For a league that's two years old, they've come a million miles." He said he is concerned about a USFL proposal to change to a fall season. If they do, "We're going to have a real saturation (of games) in the fall," he said. "The USFL has been a tremendous avenue for ball players. I don't know what it's doing for the fans," he added. About 70 persons attended the YMCA's annual meeting at Charlie's Restaurant and saw volunteer awards given to several persons. Among those honored were: Melvin Wilmsmeyer, retiring YMCA board member; Emylee Alford, chairman of the annual salad luncheon; Kim Littlefield, volunteer day worker; Gary Schneider, public relations chairman; and Don Partney, representing Granite Sheet Metal, winner of the first YMCA Corporate Superstars competition.

YMCA Board President Paul Sodko discussed the major programs of the YMCA last year and discussed plans for the future.

He commended Quad-City area financial institutions for forgiving $84,925 in debts to assist the YMCA in recuperating from the recession.

He also mentioned that a capital drive is underway to obtain funds for necessary projects, including a steam line which would heat the building free, saving thousands of dollars annually. Granite City Steel has agreed to supply free steam for five years to the YMCA if the "Y" will build the steam line to the GC Steel office building a block away.

Schneider, master-of-ceremonies, noted that the YMCA served 25,000 youths and 30,246 adults during 1983 for a total of 55,246 persons served. Membership totaled 943.

He predicted an exciting future for the YMCA, saying, "We have a young board and an exciting spirit building. You are going to see a new look to the YMCA and new offerings, such as a nautical center. We know the YMCA will be here as long as we are."

ICC approves access charges

Under an order issued last week by the Federal Communications Commission, Illinois Bell multi-line business customers will pay a $3.45 monthly access charge for each service line connecting them to Illinois Bell's switching centers. The charge will become effective May 25.

The charge is lower than the $6 rate in many other states because Illinois Bell's costs of providing service are lower than the national average, a spokesman said. This service line enables customers to make and receive local and long distance calls around the clock.

The FCC order requires business customers to pay this access charge directly to local telephone companies, instead of paying for it through higher long distance rates, which had been the practice. Long distance companies also will pay access charges for their use of Illinois Bell's facilities to send and receive long distance calls.

Residence and business customers with one service line are not affected by the order.

"The FCC access charge order represents the first step toward ending a burdensome system that forces Illinois Bell customers to subsidize telephone callers in high-cost companies in the South and West," said Thomas L. Cox, Illinois Bell vice president of finance.

"Not only will access charges for Illinois Bell customers be among the lowest in the country, but the charge will be offset by an accompanying reduction in ATC long distance rates," Cox said. The FCC also ordered a 6.1 percent reduction in ATC interstate long distance rates.

Without these charges, long distance revenues likely would continue to be collected in a national pool and returned to local telephone companies to subsidize local service.

costs. Because Illinois Bell's costs of providing service are lower, its customers place at least $40 to $50 million more each year into the pool than the company receives back. The extra charges support customers in other states where the costs of providing local service are higher. Cox said.

These access charges allow us to begin to change this subsidy system and keep our dollars at home. The extra charges will help Illinois businesses provide more jobs for the state's workers," Cox said.

'Reading Is Fun' week opened Sunday in area

Plans are underway at the "RI F" schools to join in the nationwide celebration of "Reading Is Fun Week," May 20-26 to honor the Margaret S. McNamara, founder of Reading Is Fundamental, Inc. (RIF) and promote reading.

Webster, Marshall and Prather Schools in Granite City will participate in the week long celebration by holding book distributions and/or other activities that spotlight the joys and fun of reading.

Each of these three schools will distribute free books to students and present The Margaret McNamara Certificate of Merit for outstanding contribution to RIF.

Reading Is Fundamental is a nationwide movement that brings books to young people and encourages them to read. Since its founding by Margaret McNamara in 1966, RIF projects have distributed 58 million books.

"National Reading Is Fun Week" will culminate May 24th in Washington, D.C., when a book distribution will be held for 300 children during the convention of the American Booksellers Association.

ASIDE FROM THESE projects, hallstorm damage insurance will pay for an estimated $220,000 in interior repairs at GCHS and Nameoki School and roof repairs at Prather School, Grigsby and GCHS.

Although only listing the most urgent work, Landman said, "We need a substantial amount to renovate all buildings."

"We also are presently having all buildings re-surveyed by Architect Henry Gabriel to be in compliance with House Bill 1014. That law requires us to update all buildings for Illinois Life Safety Code compliance by June 1985."

"THE ARCHITECT" has been working on these surveys and they should be completed this summer," Landman noted.

The additional Life Safety work is anticipated to be in excess of $2 million, along with Energy Conservation Survey work in the amount of $1.2 million.

"Life Safety money can be used for energy conservation projects. As mentioned, the Life Safety and Energy Conservation projects facing the district over the next years total $3.2 million."

"Almost all building maintenance is covered by insurance other than vehicle purchases could be listed as meeting Life Safety requirements."

"WHEN WE INSTALLED new boilers in 1980 and replaced others in 1981, Bill Ferris was the mechanical engineer on both projects."

"I contacted him in 1982 as to the feasibility of converting GCHS high-pressure boilers to low pressure, and installing boilers and water heaters at the GCHS cafeteria. GCHS gym and Coolidge to limit use of the boilers. It is his estimate of $450,000 for the GCHS and Coolidge work."

"If the board would decide to install after that before an ambulance came to escort him to St. Elizabeth Medical Center."

BUT BOB AUMAN, of the railroad company, said that it was not until 12:15 a.m. that the company first heard the distress calls from Dobson.

According to Auman, an operator at the Granite City Rail Depot in Granite City heard the word "emergency" at 12:15 a.m. and said the word was followed by a series of garbled words and a time lapse. The operator later heard the word "McKinley." Auman said he is not sure how long the lapse between the two words was.

One explanation for the garbled message, said Auman, was that Dobson had made the call from inside the building and was using a portable radio.

DOBSON HAD EARLIER indicated that he reached the Granite City Police Department, but now says that was in error. He later said he meant the Granite City Depot operator. The portable radio he carried did not have a police frequency

"GABRIEL HAS submitted two proposals for a high school elevator, one at a cost of $70,000 and the other at $100,000. It would be constructed outside the present building. If the board decides to install an elevator, I would request that it employ Gabriel at 5 percent," Landman concluded.

He commented, "It would seem that we should give some consideration to these funding possibilities for the school district."

"It does not appear that we can continue to reduce debt through curtailment of expenditures without harming the educational programs or allowing our buildings to further deteriorate."

"FINANCE DIRECTOR Norman Owca and I have been in contact with two financial advisers who would be willing to make proposals to the board on how their services could be used in assisting the district in reducing its dependence upon tax anticipation warrants or similar term borrowing."

The two firms are Dougherty, Dawkins, Strand and Yost, Inc., Minneapolis, and Harris Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago. Don Davis, president of DISY, is available to discuss options available to the board if it wishes to look at other means of financing our outstanding debt.

"If we are to consider any of the alternatives available, I feel this should be done prior to July 1."

"WE COULD ALSO in the building fund, utility monies obtained from the sale of buildings and the interest we are earning on that money."

"These funds would reduce the amount of money we need to borrow to simply address our most major concerns on buildings and renovations."

"I recommend that the Number One priority for the district be the seeking of solutions to our financial problems without further cutbacks except as absolutely necessary."

POTENTIAL education fund revenue services were shown as:

A. A tax rate election.
B. Working cash fund bonds.
C. Funding bonds; there is no rate limit and they may be issued by board resolution subject to a backdoor referendum (an election obtained by citizens' petitions).

D. ANTICIPATION NOTES, a general obligation. Tax notes may be issued in excess of any statutory debt limit and do not reduce a district's debt-incurring power. The maturity date is within two years of the issue date.

E. State aid anticipation certificates issued by board resolution. "This is a borrowing power similar to a bond issue," said Landman.

"The limit is 75 percent of a district's state aid but cannot exceed the amount of state aid levied for that tax year. Certificates may not be issued until the state aid appropriation has become law."

BUILDING FUND revenue options were outlined as including:

1. A referendum to increase the building tax rate from 37.1 cents to as much as 75 cents.

2. Fire prevention and safety; with a referendum, the board can increase this rate from five cents to as much as 10 cents.

3. Capital improvements—a rate maximum of six cents, increased by referendum.

4. SPECIAL EDUCATION building fund tax rate; a district can levy four cents for this purpose without a referendum.

5. Fire prevention and safety bonds; they have no limit and are not subject to a referendum or backdoor referendum.

6. Building bonds; no rate limit, but an election is required. Proceeds may be used for repair of buildings and grounds.

fall after hitting his head on the steps."

BOTH DOBSON and Auman had said that the shooting incident had occurred at 11:30 p.m. Dobson had been investigating an unlocked door on the east side of the McKinley Yard Office, when he was shot.

Dobson said that he did not see who shot at him, nor did he know the number of assailants. He escaped with an apparently slight back injury and bruises.

The State Police Department of Criminal Investigation (DCI) said Friday that the objects have been apprehended in the case.

DOBSON HAS BEEN working with the N&W Railroad for seven years. He formerly served as a police officer and was employed as a private investigator. His past experiences with the railroad have included being one of the officers who found the bodies of Donna and Gary Decker in the Terminal Railroad Association yard in Granite City.

Decker was abducted from a shopping cart in Bellefontaine Neighbors, Mo., and was later killed.

Mobile meals and Lifeline enable the elderly to remain in their homes longer than they could if they had to take care of themselves.

THE SUCCESS of these programs is part of the reason it now is necessary to reduce the medical center's staff, Sister Mary Thomas said. Fewer in-patients require fewer employees, she noted.

She defended the layoffs and concluded, "We'd be responsible if we didn't reduce staff."

Meanwhile, programs aimed at keeping people healthy and out of the hospital have been beefed up, she said. Programs such as the Better Breathers, Coronary Club, Masticomy Club, "Can Cope" for cancer patients, Hospice for the terminally ill, groups to control alcohol abuse, smoking, diabetes and other organizations are operating to keep Quad-Cityans out of the hospital.

Two women charged in fight in Venice

Shirley McClain, 26, of 83 Lee Wright Homes, Venice, and Barbara A. Montgomery, 32, of 84 Lee Wright Homes, Venice, were both charged with battery in a fight that resulted in the stabbing of Mrs. McClain.

Venice police had responded to several calls in front of the two residences last week and had warned the two women that they would be arrested unless things calmed down. At 8:45 p.m., officers were dispatched in references to a fight in progress and a stabbing.

When officers arrived, they saw Mrs. McClain bleeding from cuts to her left arm. Mrs. Montgomery was charged with battery and taken to police headquarters. Mrs. McClain was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where she received 30 stitches. She also was charged with battery.

Ice pick used to stab Venice man

Venice police questioned Terence King, 182 Viola Jones Homes, Venice, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center at 2:45 p.m. Sunday, where he had gone for treatment of a stab wound.

King said he suffered the wound at 7 p.m. Saturday when he attempted to intervene in an argument at his home and was struck with an ice pick.

He did not seek medical attention immediately, believing the wound was not serious, he said, but went to the hospital Sunday afternoon in the area of the injury began hurting.

No complaints were signed in the incident.

Q: It's my understanding that the Social Security tax will increase in the next few years. Do you know what this increase in withholding will be, and will the FICA wage base also increase?

A: Social Security taxes will increase each year through 1988, as set forth by law. This will include the FICA tax rate, as well as the wage base and maximum tax. For employees subject to FICA withholding, the rate for this year is 6.7%, with the wage base at $37,000, and the maximum tax pegged at $2,533. Next year, 1985, the percentage rate will be 7.05, the wage base $39,600, and the maximum tax will therefore be $2,792. The years 1986 and 1987 will see the same withholding tax rate of 7.15%, with the maximum tax withholding of $3,537 on a wage base of $47,100. These increases were part of the effort, in 1983, to stabilize the Social Security system.

Venice seeks funds to give officers raises

By VALERIE EVENDEN of the Press-Record

A more optimistic approach to problems facing the Venice Police Department, including pay hikes, appeared evident at last week's meeting of the Venice City Council.

"We must take a serious look, at this point in time, to finding some funds for some type of pay raise. I believe we should do what we can," Venice Mayor Tyrone Echols said.

The MAYOR was responding to negotiation proposals formally submitted to the council Tuesday night by Venice Unit 38 of the Policemen's Benevolent and Protective Association of Illinois.

"I will get with the city treasurer, comptroller and the tax assessor and see what we can do," Mayor Echols commented to the aldermen after reading the proposals, which seek pay increases, establishment of a sick leave policy and requests the hiring of new officers to fill existing vacancies in the department.

The Venice department currently has nine officers, including Police Chief Parris Smith, and three dispatchers. According to population figures, a total of 12 or 13 officers is needed to meet full strength requirements, the chief advised.

THE MAYOR asked the police commissioners to provide him with an eligibility list of the upper five candidates derived from a recent police examination, "so we can see what direction to take."

"I still hope we can suffice with only one (additional officer) and one of two, but this is not finalized as yet."

"I only one new officer is hired this will generate some money for raises," he pointed out.

MAYOR ECHOLS is continuing to investigate a program through which the city is eligible to receive reimbursement of half the salary of a probationary patrolman for a six-month period, if the candidate passes and meets specific requirements.

A lengthy period of unemployment by a candidate is believed to be among the requirements in order to meet the program's mandates.

IN THE negotiation proposals, members of the Venice Police Department are asking:

— Across the board increase of $300 per month for each police officer and $150 monthly increase for desk clerks (dispatchers).

— Cost-of-living adjustment, based on the consumer price index, specifically the index for urban wage earners and clerical workers published by the Bureau of

August 28-June 7 GC school calendar

By BILL WINTER of the Press-Record

A calendar adopted by the Granite City Board of Education calls for students to report Aug. 28, 1984, and to conclude their year June 7, 1985.

The Easter vacation of April 1 to 5 remains in the calendar although some of the preliminary planning had projected the elimination of that week-long "spring break."

Excellent Superintendent Frank Kraus said polling of all categories of school employees showed an overall 3-1 preference for starting classes the week before Labor Day.

THREE TENTATIVE versions of the 1984-85 calendar had scheduled classes to begin two weeks before Labor Day, one week before or the day after that holiday, which is Sept. 3.

As adopted, the 182-day calendar (plus two institute days and two parent conference days) lists principals' meetings for Aug. 24 and faculty meetings for Aug. 27.

Holidays include the Columbus Day Oct. 8, Veterans' Day Nov. 12, Thanksgiving Nov. 22-23, Christmas-New Year Dec. 22 off, through Jan. 1, Lincoln's birthday Feb. 12 and Memorial Day May 27. The first semester is to end Jan. 18, with the second semester beginning Jan. 21.

ALSO AT THE MEETING, Judith K. Sparks, an honorably dismissed teacher, resigned effective May 7. Until June 1983, she was a business education teacher at North High School.

She commented, "After much thought not to accept appointment to the business department at Granite City High School, I am presently employed at the Granite City Center of Belleville Area College and feel my future may be more secure there."

"My 13 years at the high school were an enjoyable and rewarding experience. I will always be thankful to the Granite City school district and proud to have been a part of an excellent educational system."

EXPLORATORY LEAVES of absence for 1984-85 were granted to Diane Nelson, a GCHS English teacher, who cited business plans, Judith Roschen, a teacher of the handicapped who listed plans for college attendance and part-time employment, and Thomas Wyrostek, a GCHS driver education teacher, who will explore another career field.

A May 14-June 1 illness leave of absence was granted to Alice Schardan, a Coolidge Junior High School English teacher.

A May 14-June 1 illness leave also was approved for Irene Bertels, a Maryville School cafeteria employee.

James M. Davis, GCHS head softball coach, is resigning from that extracurricular assignment after June 1984.

NO DECISION was made on another agenda item, designation of a Coolidge Junior High assistant principal.

The board chose Norman S. Owca, director of finance, to prepare a tentative draft of an amended version of the 1984-85 budget for School District Nine.

To permit advance borrowing, the board earlier adopted the final 1983-84 budget as an initial '84-85 budget.

THE BOARD NOTED that Alfred J. Wilson, Marshall School principal, spoke on "The Newspaper in Education" at the 1984 convention of the National Association of Elementary School Principals.

The amount is based on $47,129 (85 percent of the current year's allotment of $55,440) plus $156,482 in carryover funds.

If the $573,611 is expended in 1984-85, the next carryover would total $123,156.

BOTH CHAPTER I and II funds are used to supplement existing programs rather than supplanting them.

Chapter II aid for instructional materials and equipment, attendance services, media educational equipment, general administration and payments to other governmental units in 1984-85 is projected at $89,773 for the Granite City school system and $4,582 for non-public schools.

A report by Nancy Graf, a Granite City school nurse, showed that 91 throat cultures were taken in April, with 15 of that number found to be positive.

ACTING ON A REPORT by Owca and by Ronald Dillard of the driver education faculty, the board approved a $900 contract with Doron Precision Systems for 1984-85 maintenance and servicing of driver education simulators.

Monthly food and supply purchases for school cafeterias in 1983-84 were completed by the Granite City Board of Education. Successful bidders were Jones Wholesale, Tardas and Middendorf.

April food operations resulted in a net cost of $1,360 plus $10,303 in indirect expenses. The cafeteria budget was described as "on target for the year."

STUDENT BUS costs through April reached $1,051,218, an average of $7,351 a day for 143 school days.

Cost of the Coolidge Junior High honorarium banquet held April 30 at the Granite City Township Hall was $1,383 in state gifted program funds.

Mitchell School's Parent-Teacher Association is donating computer equipment valued at $450 and the Coolidge speech department is giving equipment valued at $1,815 to the district.

WEBSTER PTA will provide equipment and services totaling $1,115 to help pay the Webster PTA's cost of a computer equipment was stolen in a break-in there May 2.

Tri-City Printing will provide GCHS commencement programs on its low bid of $420.

First-aid supplies totaling $943 are being obtained from six firms based on competitive bidding.

Specialized Services is using the GCHS outdoor track on Fridays through June 8 during preparations for 1984 Special Olympics running events.

A Granite City open wrestling tournament associated with the U.S. Wrestling Federation is planned in June at the Granite City Center, formerly North High.

Permission was given to the Mitchell Athletic Club to use the GCC softball field weekdays from 4 p.m. to 8 p.m. for games and practices.

THE GCHS BAND will participate in the annual Tri-City Trades and Labor Council Labor Day parade Sept. 5.

Gary Gaines is urging the district to expand its teaching of the history of the labor movement. He said in a letter, "This town has a very rich history of unionism. Some of the oldest local unions in the U.S.A. are right here in Madison County."

Enrollment dropped from 9,133 at the start of April to 9,102 at the end of that month.

The number of students is down 337 from a year ago.

CHARGE MITCHELL MAN DUL, NO HEADLIGHTS
 Floyd E. Fague, 52, of 515 Fleming Place, Mitchell, was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol and driving without headlights last week after his car was stopped in the 3700 block of Nameoki Road.

The arrest was made after an officer alleged seeing a vehicle heading north on Nameoki Road.

Fague agreed to take a blood alcohol test at St. Elizabeth Medical Center when no operator was available for the breathalyzer machine.

TWO-CAR ACCIDENT RESULTS IN INJURY
 Edward C. Novak, 56, of St. Louis, was treated at St. Elizabeth Medical Center for injuries suffered when his car crossed the median at the Canal Bridge and crashed into a 1970 last week.

Novak, who came to Illinois to buy a lottery ticket, was returning west-bound on 1270 when he suddenly jumped the curb, steering wheel. Police officials said he had a heart condition. Novak's vehicle then crossed through the center median, striking a west-bound car.

The driver of that car was Larry L. Leible, 39, of St. Louis. After being hit, Leible's auto spun into the median and overturned in the west-bound lane. Leible escaped uninjured.

Novak was released from St. Elizabeth Medical Center Thursday.

LEAVING THE SCENE CHARGED
 Charles F. Rogers, 31, of 66 Garesche Homes, Madison, was charged with the leaving the scene of an accident earlier this month.

Rogers allegedly left the Curley's Diner parking lot, 1018 Broadway, Venice, after backing into a parked car owned by Ernestine Smith, 2294 Cardinal Ave.

VENDING MACHINES GONE
 Two newspaper vending machines valued at $250 each, owned by USA Today of Overland, Mo., were stolen from outside Clonko's Market, 29th Street and Madison Avenue, and Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center late last week. An estimated $6 in cash was taken with the machines.

Planning Commission makes zoning recommendations

Members of the Granite City Planning Commission deferred two zoning change proposals and allowed two to pass on for council approval at their regular monthly meeting Thursday.

Given approval was E.G. Steele Development Inc., which is requesting the rezoning and annexation of approximately 2.3 acres of land on Carhill Road. A representative for the company said that he plans to build six duplexes on the property. He said units will be available for 12 to 15 families.

Board members recommended that zoning for the acreage be upgraded from, R-1 (single-family residential) to R-5 multi-family residential. There were no objectors.

The board also endorsed a request from Mr. and Mrs. Otilio Valencia Jr. of 1701 Bremen Ave. for annexation of their property into the Granite City limits.

A decision was postponed, however on a request from Jimmie and Diana Melton, 3202 Maryville Road, for rezoning of their Parkside Food Shop from a C-2 (neighborhood commercial) zone to a C-5 (general commercial). The rezoning would allow the Meltons to install two gasoline pumps on the store's parking lot.

Board members suggested that the request wait until the board can talk to a planner about giving the shop a special license. This license would give the Meltons the zoning they seek, but if they sold their property, the land's classification would go back to its former rating.

The board deferred action on this request. There were no objectors. The group also deferred action for rezoning of a piece of property at 29th Street and Madison Ave. from an R-3 (single family residential) to a C-4 (central business district commercial) zone. David Roth, owner of the property, proposed that the land be reclassified for a Hit-N-Run Store.

Several residents were in objection to the plan, including former Judge Fred Schuman, who said that he had not received a letter informing him of the meeting 15 days before it occurred. Schuman said that, by law, this letter has to be sent out at least 15 days in advance.

Schuman further stated that the intersection of 29th Street and Madison Avenue has a "bad, bad" traffic problem. He said he is concerned that this type of building would cause more congestion on the road.

Roth said that he feels the location of the property is such that no one would build a residence. He said he feels the traffic created by his store would not cause much additional traffic. He also stated that his store would employ five full-time workers and 12 part-time workers.

Roth also indicated that the store would be open 24 hours a day and that they intend to seek a liquor license from the city. He said that if the store is not granted a liquor license, he will cancel his plans to locate there.

Board members agreed to table the motion temporarily until they investigate the legal question raised by Schuman.

All of these recommendations will be reviewed by the Granite City Council at its meeting Tuesday.

Program aids divorced parents in collecting child support

Public Aid Director Gregory L. Coler has announced a new program that will assist Madison County divorced parents in collecting child support payments.

As a result of a recent agreement, effective May 1, 1984, the Madison County circuit clerk, state's attorney and Department of Public Aid will combine their efforts in order to increase compliance with court ordered child support obligations for divorced persons who apply for this service. Similar services have been available for public assistance clients and for those applying through the local public aid office since February 1980. However, the program is being expanded in order to assist any custodial parent not receiving child support payments in accordance with the terms of their divorce decree.

Coler said, "This agreement helps parents—usually women—to collect child support payments due them. The moral obligation of parents to support their children is also a legal obligation and this agreement will help ensure that the legal obligation is met. We intend to let people know that child support obligations are not to be taken lightly."

The new program is authorized under the Illinois Marriage and Dissolution of Marriage Act. Under the provisions of this act, the circuit clerk will notify the parent responsible for making child support payments that their account is delinquent and give the parent an opportunity to bring their account up to date. If the circuit clerk's efforts are unsuccessful, the state's attorney will be notified and the case will be scheduled for a court hearing.

Coler said that the lack of regard for court orders may result in a finding of contempt of court against a delinquent parent and a jail sentence could ensue. Additionally, the child support obligation may be taken directly from a parent's income, as a result of a new income withholding law which went into effect on Jan. 1, 1984. "This will help ensure that future periods of non-payment do not occur," he stated.

Madison County will be the first county outside of Cook County to implement such a program. Madison County was chosen because of successful efforts in the area of child support over the past four years. The program will be financed at no cost to the county. A combination of federal and state funding will be made available for covering the program costs.

Approximately 125 new divorces are filed each month in Madison County, 50 of which contain orders for child support. Coler projected that more than $300,000 will be collected from absent parents as a result of the program. Collections are expected to increase even more in subsequent years.

Individuals filing for divorce after May 1, 1984, will be provided with an application for child support enforcement services by the circuit clerk. Anyone divorced prior to May 1, 1984, and interested in this service, may contact the Madison County clerk of the circuit court at 1-692-6200, extension 4412.

Bid is accepted for soil samplings

A bid was accepted by the Granite City Council last week for subsurface sampling on eight city sewer breaks. Woodward-Clyde Consultants, of St. Louis, Mo., won with the low bid of $12,600.

According to Acting City Engineer Ed Schulze, the soil samplings are necessary to determine where to place the wells for dewatering of the breaks.

Sewer breaks that will be affected by the work include: 2546 Boyle Ave.; 1504 Joy Ave.; 1932 Joy Ave.; 2500 Logan St.; 3317 Princeton Ave.; High St. (behind Charlie's Restaurant); 4047 Stearns Ave. and 3200 Davis Ave.

Alderman Jake Varadani asked Schulze if it would be proper to accept bids for dewatering, but Schulze replied that, until the sampling is finished, he will not have any specific information to give a dewatering contractor.

Schulze said that the soil sampling consultants will provide the city with soil logs, that will tell the city of what the soil consists, down to 80 feet. Schulze said this is important, not only in placing the wells, but in informing them as to what type of screens will be necessary for the dewatering equipment.

Schulze expects the soil sampling to be completed by mid-summer. He said the work on these breaks is covered by Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) money.

Also at the meeting, a bid was accepted for 260 gallons of paint from Lombard Paints and Interiors Inc., 23rd Street and Madison Avenue, for the Mayor's Paint Program.

Opposition

Plan Commission, asked residents what type of facility they would like to see on the property. Residents answered that they would not be in opposition to a church, nursing home or school.

Residents said they feel permits for bingo at the hall would cause traffic problems late in the night and would cause much more wear and tear to the subdivision roads than the 10 or so schools that formerly traveled their streets.

"WHAT HAPPENS when a train is crossing on Pontoon Road after a bingo game is called would cause traffic problems late in the night and would cause much more wear and tear to the subdivision roads than the 10 or so schools that formerly traveled their streets."

A representative of the Knights of Columbus said that the bingo games would only be conducted until 11:15 p.m. at the latest. He said the group currently conducts games twice a week.

However, the fraternity is connected with the Knights of Columbus Auxiliary and the daughters of Isabella, who might obtain additional bingo licenses.

OTHER RESIDENTS are opposed to the suggestion of a public lounge, where they said anyone would be permitted to drink.

Miosky admirms that the lounge would not be limited to card-carrying members only. However, he did not think the lounge would become a problem.

Fourth Ward Alderman, Phillip Miller said he also opposes the suggestion of a public lounge. "At first I thought this was just going to be for a fraternal organization, private, but now it's a public place it's just going to be a tavern," he said. "I can't go along with that."

BOARD MEMBER Loman asked residents if they would be opposed to the rezoning if problems concerning the drainage, traffic and public liquor can be resolved.

Residents replied that no situation would be acceptable as long as there is to be alcoholic beverages served. At this point, the planning commission Member Ed Reinagle made a motion to approve the zoning and the motion was seconded by Sandy Shaw. Loman cast the only dissenting vote.

THE RECOMMENDATION of the board will be reviewed by the full city council Tuesday night. Schroeder said that residents will appear at that meeting to again voice their displeasure.

Mr. Schroeder said that if the current land use is converted, "a dip" in the ground would have to be filled in. "If the land is filled in, there could be a worse drainage problem than there is now," he said. "I guess as long as the place is kept up, it will be alright. They (the Knights) finally got the grass cut today. I guess an alderman called them."

GC Council discusses liquor license request

Granite City Council members last week referred a package liquor license request to the ordinance committee after a lengthy discussion on the subject. The request is from the 7-Eleven Store, 19th Street and Niedringhaus Avenue.

Mayor Paul Schuler said that the city's current liquor ordinance limits the number of liquor licenses and that the ordinance is at its limit now. Schuler said if the council wished to approve the request, the proper motion would be to increase the number of package liquor licenses allowed in the city.

Alderman Sharon Perjak asked if Schnuck's Market, 3801 Nameoki Road, has applied for such a permit lately. The council had opposed a request for the grocery store last year.

Schuler said he was not aware of any such recent requests.

Alderman Paul Fisk said that he is opposed to giving the 7-Eleven Store a license. "If we give them a license, we'll be opening it up for every milk store in the city," he said.

Schuler said the reason he feels this request should be considered is that the store manager has specified that he would make a separate room for the liquor. Schuler said that the council has granted package liquor licenses in the past to confectionaries such as Sullie's Package Liquor, 2260 Washington Ave., and J & J Liquors, 3112 Marville Road, when it was affiliated with Parkside Confectionary. Both have separate rooms for the merchandise and J & J now is a separate building.

Second Ward Alderman Sam Whitmer said he disagreed with giving out any more package liquor licenses. "We brought the ordinance in to limit the number of liquor places and now we're trying to bend the law," he said. "In the near future there will be a similar store with a similar operation at 29th Street and Madison Avenue, if the zoning goes through." He said he feels the council would be hard-pressed to turn down any future requests if the 7-Eleven request was allowed.

Alderman "Woody" Moad agreed with Whitmer. "It seems like the council is picking and choosing who will get a liquor license — they're not really treating everyone the same," he said. "I wonder if this type of action is really fair."

Mayor Schuler agreed that there should be some discussion on the issue and the matter was referred to the ordinance committee for its recommendation.

Council debates promotion, names acting city engineer

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH
of the Press-Record

Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler cast the deciding vote Tuesday to name Ed Schulte the acting city engineer. The motion also carried provisions that would give Schulte a 15 percent increase in salary.

The move to promote Schulte came about during a discussion of the city's sanitation and inspection departments. Alderman Philip Miller, chairman of those committees, said that after several discussions with the mayor, the committee is recommending that the city not hire anyone to replace former City Engineer Monroe Brewer, "at this time."

ALDERMAN PAUL Ray Bowler of the Seventh Ward, agreed that it would be improper to bring a new person in as engineer at this time because of the current work on the sewer breaks. He said that Schulte was familiar with the work that needed to be done and that a new person would be coming into a situation he knew nothing about. Bowler said the 15 percent salary increase represents half of the difference between what Schulte was getting paid and the amount that Brewer was getting paid.

Second Ward Alderman Sam Whitmer disagreed, saying it would not be fair to give Schulte a salary increase because other city employees have gone two years without higher wages. "I think singling out one individual like this is not fair," he said. "The money he's getting now is a fair salary."

Mayor Schuler said he feels the 15 percent increase should not be looked on as a raise, but as a salary that is commensurate with the higher position Schulte will be filling.

ALDERMAN JAKE Varadian said he agrees with Whitmer. "First of all, this item was not on the agenda, and secondly, I can't see singling out one individual like this," he said. Varadian motioned to have action deferred on the measure until the next meeting, but a motion already was on the floor to approve the measure.

Fourth Ward Alderman Sharon Perjak questioned Schulte's qualifications for the job. "Is Schulte a licensed engineer?" she asked. "Doesn't the city ordinance require that the city engineer be licensed by the state?"

City Attorney John Papa said that the position to which Schulte was being promoted was not the position that is spelled out in the ordinance.

"WHY RAISE A person up to a position before we're sure he can do it," said Mrs. Perjak. "We've dumped a lot of Brewer's work on (Joe) Mikovic (city controller), are we going to give him a raise too? All of the other city employees haven't got a dime in two years."

After a discussion, a roll call vote was taken. Voting for the measure were Aldermen Everett Morlen, Carl Kettel, Paul Fisk, Miller, Woody Moad, Steve Saltich, Bowler and Mayor Schuler.

Opposing the measure were Aldermen Whitmer, Fred "Pat" Schuman, Casmer Skubish, Mrs. Perjak, Varadian and Lloyd Bailey. Alderman Michael Modrusic was not present due to being on vacation.

Barber closes shop after 55 years

By VALERIE EVENEDEN
of the Press-Record

"When I got finished with Brian on Friday, I closed the shop and went home. Then I decided to close up for good," Lester Holzinger explained softly.

That decision, made without fanfare or apparent regret, quietly ended a career spanning 55 years as a barber.

Forty-seven of those years were spent at the same shop, located in the Darner Building, 1415 Niedringhaus Ave.

How many people can boast of keeping customers for more than a half-century? Holzinger can.

A remarkable fact about the actual closing of the barber shop doors forever is that Lester's last customer, Brian Compton, was his first customer when he began barbering in Granite City 55 years ago.

It was just coincidence that after finishing Brian's haircut, Lester decided to close the business, he explained.

"I've been thinking of closing for six months or more, but you know how it is, you just keep going on."

H.A. "Babe" Ameling also will be looking for a new barber. He too has been patronizing Lester's shop, and before that, wherever else the now-retired barber worked, for the past 55 years.

Lester had many other customers who've been coming to him for his special expertise, conversation and experienced hands for a long, long time.

Holzinger, 76, was born in Highland and was employed as a barber in St. Louis prior to coming to Granite City in April 1929.

For about eight years, he worked in various shops before going into business for himself and opening the shop in the Darner Building in 1937.

Holzinger's had other employees over the years, but since 1966 he has operated the business by himself, he said.

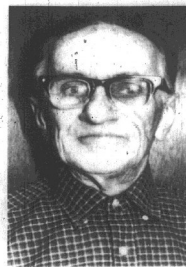

Some aspects of barbering have changed dramatically in many ways, but other things pretty much remain the same, he said.

As far back as he can remember, he charged 35 cents for a haircut. Nowadays, however, he was getting $5 and up, depending on styling.

"Hairstyles also have changed considerably, but I went along with them," he said. "For years, the kids came in the shop in the summertime and wanted crewcuts. Not so much anymore," he added.

For the record, Lester likes the longer hair styles currently worn by youths and some older men. "As long as they keep it up and neat. But some of them are so dirty and look it. That I don't like," he emphasized.

Asked to comment on the trend

followed by many younger women and teenage girls who have their hair cut and styled at previously all-male barber shops, Holzinger said. "Why not? I've cut hundreds of them."

"Years ago I used to cut women's hair all the time. In fact, a big percentage of my customers in years past were women. They all wanted the 'windblown' look and I had a lot of lady trade."

Most of Lester's male customers came to the shop every two or three weeks, but some came weekly, he noted.

"I used to cut the hair of one man who lived in Chicago every two weeks. He called on the steel companies here and he'd phone me from St. Louis Airport when he arrived and make an appointment."

Other clients came from Belleville and surrounding communities, he noted.

When Local 483 of the Barber's Union disbanded some years ago, Lester went into the United Food and Commercial Workers Local 219, formerly the Retail Clerks Union, in which he still holds membership.

When his wife, Irene, reside at 1605 Pontoon Road. They have a daughter, Mrs. Sandra Palovich, and two granddaughters, Becky, 14, and Carrie Ann, 11, all of Granite City.

Holzinger belongs to St. John United Church of Christ and the St. John's Brotherhood.

Asked about his plans for retirement, Lester said, "I'm going to catch up on my loafing. I'll play it by ear, day to day, and do what I want to do."

"I might play some golf and I might do some fishing. Don't worry, I've got plenty to do," he stressed.

GC park plans trip to Amana Colonies

The Granite City Park District is planning a three-day weekend trip to the Cedar Rapids-Amana, Iowa area on June 22, 23 and 24. Reservations may be made, starting at 9 a.m. Thursday, May 24, at the Wilson Park Office.

The group will be staying at the Roosevelt Hotel in Cedar Rapids, which features a free buffet breakfast each morning along with a complimentary cocktail party each evening from 5:30 to 7:30.

Highlighting the trip will be a Saturday tour of the seven villages of the Amana Colonies. The colonies were founded by settlers of West German and Swiss ancestry and feature woolen mills, furniture factories, meat smoking plants, bakeries, wineries and many other shops, stores and display rooms. Major appliances, such as food freezers, refrigerators and air conditioners manufactured here are available everywhere.

There will be a charge of $8.50 on Saturday for a family style meal at the OX-Yoke Inn. This price includes a typical Amana meal with three meats (chicken, ham and oven-roasted steak), potatoes, gravy, vegetable, salad, sauerkraut, white and rye bread, beverage and dessert.

The cost also includes admission to the Amana Heim Museum, a century-old Amana home preserved to relieve the past, and a tour guide on board the bus.

The bus will leave the Wilson Park Ice rink at 8 a.m. Friday, June 22, and return at approximately 6 p.m. Sunday, June 24. The bus transportation and hotel fees range from $116 for a single to $69 for four persons to a room.

Park district residents will be given priority in obtaining reservations. Proof of residence must be presented for each person and only four reservations can be made by one individual. Non-residents will be placed on a waiting list.

The bus seating is determined by the order in which reservations are made, it was noted.

Plan to attract and retain highly capable educators

Reform designed to recruit and retain high-quality personnel in Illinois schools is being carried out by the State Board of Education.

The board's mid-May plan is aimed at raising teachers' salaries, strengthening administrative requirements for college and university education programs, and requiring improvements in job evaluation methods and staff development programs for practicing educators.

The board approved recommendations from a three-year study of "The Quality of the Preparation and Performance of Illinois Educational Personnel" conducted by State Board staff members, assisted by committees of local school board members, administrators, teachers, and representatives of colleges and universities.

The plan focuses on improvements in five areas:

1) Recruitment of individuals into college and university education programs and into education as a career.

2) Assessment of students while they are in those preparation programs.

3) Recruitment and hiring of prospective educators by local school districts.

4) Assessment of staff members by local districts; and

5) Staff development, or continuing education, for practicing educators.

Although several of the recommendations would require legislation, many can be initiated administratively through rules and regulations.

An implementation plan will be developed by staff members and presented to the State Board next fall.

A plan, such as this, is one of the true focal points of any education reform program," according to State Supt. of Education Donald Gill.

"These recommendations for policy changes will lead to improvement of not only the quality of teachers that are brought into the public schools, but ultimately to the improvement of student learning."

Recruitment of prospective personnel.

The State Board will support and promote efforts that would increase salaries for beginning public school teachers, as well as support pay improvements designed to keep experienced teachers in the profession.

It will also seek legislation: a) to establish scholarships to public or private colleges or universities for persons preparing to teach in areas of shortage, and b) to create incentives encouraging business and industry to provide resources for both instructional and professional development activities for educators.

A program to recruit minority students into education careers and both minority and female educators into administration programs also will be developed by the board.

Assessment in preparation programs.

More rigorous and uniform standards for admission into and retention in all undergraduate and graduate programs that lead to certification will be established by June 1985, according to the plan.

The State Board, in support of the concept of annually assessing program graduates, will request the State Board, in support of the concept of annually assessing program graduates, will request the State Teacher Certification Board to devise a program for annual assessment of graduates of Illinois colleges who are eligible for certification.

Recruiting and hiring by school districts.

The State Board will devise guidelines to help local boards of education establish job qualifications for instructional positions in their districts, as well as enlist the aid of other education organizations to develop ways to help districts recruit minority teachers, school service personnel (i.e., psychologists, social workers, counselors and nurses) and minority and female administrators.

In addition, the board will modify its present job listing service to better compile and disseminate information concerning laid-off teachers and available positions in districts.

Assessment of personnel by districts.

Each school district will be required to create and use a written plan for evaluating professional certificated staff which would ensure that each certificated staff member receives at least one written evaluation annually and that probationary (non-tenured) personnel receive more frequent and intensive evaluations.

The state will assist administrators and other supervisory personnel in developing skills and knowledge necessary to effectively evaluate personnel by establishing a state-sponsored program.

Staff development.

As part of their present recognition requirements, local districts will be required to design a three-year plan for staff development that focuses on attaining district and/or school goals and involves all categories of professional staff—teachers, school service personnel, and administrators.

In addition, the State Board will seek legislation to require employed teachers, school service personnel and administrators to show proof that they have successfully completed their districts' staff development programs in order to renew their certificates.

New and re-entering educators will receive extra support and assistance through a State Board program that will require districts to develop individualized staff development programs for each beginning and re-entering professional.

The board will seek state funds to support that program, as well as financial support for the other local district organizational staff development program.

Two released after court appearances

In a court appearance last week, Craig S. Vizer, 22, of 1645 Spruce St., pleaded innocent to contributing to the delinquency of a minor and guilty to public consumption of alcohol. He was fined $100 and was released.

Also pleading innocent to contributing to the delinquency of a minor was John A. Powers, 18, of 2212 Illinois Ave., who pleaded guilty to illegal possession of alcohol and was fined $100.

Powers also pleaded guilty to unlawful possession of cannabis and was placed under six months supervision and fined $100.

The two men were arrested during the weekend in a car under the Route 3 overpass at the end of Chicago Avenue. Also in the vehicle were a 16-year-old girl who was released to her mother, and Melinda G. Lewis, 17, of St. Louis, who was charged with illegal possession of alcohol and released on notice to appear for a hearing.

The group allegedly had beer in the auto and at police headquarters, a plastic bag containing cannabis was found in Powers' clothing.

Math education is sought

By PETER L. SIMPSON

A statewide testing program in mathematics, aimed at the improvement of math education in Illinois, is moving forward with the support of a public service grant from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The project, which developed out of regular meetings of university-level math chairmen across the state, is now at a critical point. Robert N. Pendergrass, chairman of SIUE's department of mathematics, statistics and computer science, noted with his colleagues the number of students requiring remedial work at the college entry level.

SO IN 1982, with the encouragement of the Illinois Office of Education, a project of developing diagnostic tests to be given at the beginning of the junior year in high school went into operation. Eight public universities were involved.

Paul Phillips, professor of mathematics at SIUE, has been assigned to work on the project since its inception "If we can let students know their strengths and deficiencies before they start their junior year, they can attack their problems before they get to college."

The need for the project, increasingly clear not just to teachers but to students, parents, and the general public as well, was stated in a report on the Illinois Inventory of Educational Progress 1980-81: "Illinois students of 1981 showed significantly lower mathematics achievement than 1970 students in high school mathematics."

THE EFFORT has been received favorably by high school teachers who have been consulted, and it has the support of the Illinois Council of Teachers of Mathematics.

The SIUE professors involved, both Pendergrass and Phillips, have taught on the high school level. They are proficient in the construction of tests.

Responding to a general mandate from President Earl Lazerson that the university work with the common schools directly, those working on the project prepared preliminary versions for field testing in 1982. Another field test of revised versions was conducted during this past spring.

WITH THE SUMMER University grant, Phillips can now do his part in the completion of the tests this summer. He will work with mathematicians from the other eight state institutions to complete the tests for administration, analysis and reporting in the spring of 1985.

If successful, the testing program will give valuable information to high schools for assessing the success of their math programs. It should help counselors place students in the right classes during junior and senior years, lessening the likelihood of failure and the need for remedial work later.

Many more schools asked to take part in the first pilot testing than could be included, according to the project coordinators.

Architects named for SIUE projects

Architects for dental education, and single student housing facilities at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville were named by the SIUE Board of Trustees.

The board voted to recommend to the Capital Development Board (CDB) the firm of Graham, Anderson, Probst and White, Chicago, as architect for the CDB project to construct and equip the dental education facility at the Alton campus. Funds for the project, totaling $2,020,000, were appropriated to the CDB for Fiscal Year 1984.

THE BOARD approved the firm of Ruitasell and Associates, Inc., Freeburg, to perform architectural and engineering services through the design development stage for the proposed project for Tower Lake Housing renovation, construction of a dining hall, and related site improvements.

The proposed Tower Lake Housing project would renovate 158 existing apartments by replacing the kitchen and dining area with a second bathroom and a third bedroom, thereby increasing apartment occupancy from four to six students, for a total increase of 316 students. The proposed project also includes the purchase of furniture for the renovated apartments and the construction of a dining hall adjacent to the Tower Lake Commons Building, providing dining facilities for 948 students. In addition, parking, sidewalk and lighting improvements would be provided. Financing for the project would be through a revenue bond issue of approximately $5,300,000.

President Lazerson was authorized by the Board in September to continue planning the Tower Lake expansion and to recommend an architectural and engineering firm to review the proposal, refine cost estimates and provide a recommendation regarding project feasibility. The president appointed a committee to assist in the architect selection process, and 14 firms were considered.

Art conference scheduled at SIUE

The aesthetic/psychological values associated with art and the new areas of activity this non-traditional approach has opened will be the subject of a conference presented by the department of art and design at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville on June 1.

The first annual Art Therapy Conference is organized to provide art therapists, artists, educators, students and professionals in related topics an opportunity to explore current topics in art therapy.

THE ONE-DAY meeting will begin with a keynote address by Bob Ault in the morning, followed by related "Experience Workshops" in the afternoon. The workshops will be led by Ault, Gong Shu and Susan O'Connor.

Reservations for the Art Therapy Conference should be made by May 25. The pre-registration fee is $10 ($7 for students). Checks should be made payable to Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Registration at the conference will be $15 ($10 for students). Advance registrants should also list in priority order the afternoon workshops they wish to attend.

Registrations and inquiries concerning the conference should be sent to Art Therapy Conference, Art & Design, Box 64, SIUE, Edwardsville, Ill. 62026-1001. Questions by telephone should be directed to 1-692-3183.

Research/training increased during this period from $1,581,565 in FY 1983 to $2,958,143 in FY 1984. Institutional funding increased from $840 in FY 1983 to $6,600 in 1984. Student support showed the only decrease.

At the close of the third quarter, 63 proposals valued at $6,850,625 were pending at various federal, state, local and private agencies. Excluding student support, Dean Lindsay said pending proposals have increased from $2,077,187 in FY 1983 to $4,850,625 in FY 1984.

Dean Lindsay said new research project funding has been obtained in the Schools of Social Sciences, Engineering and Sciences, and the Office of University Museums.

FUNDING FOR training has increased as a result of the Head Start Programs, she said, as well as newly funded training programs in nursing, education, and arts in special education.

HOSS CONVINCES STARMAN TO SEE THINGS HIS WAY. In one of the forceful scenes from Sam Shephard's "The Tooth of Crime," two of the main characters stage a confrontation. The actors are not identified as part of an experimental dramatic strategy for the relationship between characters and audience. The provocative play will inaugurate the Student Experimental Theater in the new Theater Performance Facility at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and will be performed on May 25 and 26, at 8:15 p.m. Admission is free.

Crime play to inaugurate new theater

A production for Sam Shephard's "The Tooth of Crime" will feature the grand opening of the Student Experimental Theater in the new Theater Performance Facility at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The play will be performed on Friday and Saturday, May 25 and 26, at 8:15 p.m. Admission is free. The new theater, built at a cost of $635,000 with monies from the Student Welfare and Recreation Trust Fund, replaces the venerable "Quonset Hut" and is located directly south of the SIUE Bubble Gym.

CONSIDERED BY critics to be one of the most provocative of the works of one of America's most challenging playwrights, "The Tooth of Crime" centers around two competing rock stars who engage in a shootout of words. American attitudes and myths about competition, aging, and death are played out in an arena setting, with a live rock and roll band.

This is an appropriate show to open the new theater," director William C. Burch said. Burch is quick to add that he prefers the term "organizer" to "director" since he defines his job as "pulling the performers together and getting everyone to deal with the varying themes of the play. Use of the term "director" as applied to my role is purely conventional."

Burch noted, "This play cannot be considered stereotypical in any sense, and it would be a mistake to think of it that way. The performers are free to move in new ways. The feeling this gives unleashes a certain creativity."

"IN MY OPINION, this play deals with the violent sense of America; it may not be a play everyone will want to see. It is controversial — it challenges the traditions of the American dream. I would not suggest that it be seen by anyone under 16, since it contains shocking language and vivid imagery," he explained.

Reservations for "The Tooth of Crime" may be made by calling the department of theater and dance at SIUE, 1-692-3773.

Workshop hosted for volunteers

Warriors are net champions

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Going into Saturday's championship round of the Granite City High School Tennis Sectional, the Warrior tennis squad needed a single victory to capture the sectional championship. Still competing in two events, the Warriors' chances of picking up a victory and winning the sectional were pretty good.

Granite City's first doubles duo of Matt Sheridan and Rob Lombardi and first singles player David Lipe were still vying for titles. The Sheridan-Lombardi duo were battling Alton's Shane and Todd Volland for the tournament's first doubles championship and Lipe was battling Bethalto's Scott Howse for third place in first singles competition.

Realizing that only first- and second-place sectional finishers qualify for state competition, Lipe knew the only way he would earn a trip to the state tournament would be if his team won the sectional. So, he took the matter into his own hands and defeated Howse 6-2, 6-1 to boost the Warriors to the sectional championship.

According to Illinois State High School guidelines for state tennis sectionals, the team champions — the sectional winners — qualifies its entire team for the state tournament.

While Lipe was handling Howse, Sheridan and Lombardi were not as successful in first doubles. Alton's Volland brothers bettered the Granite City duo 7-5, 6-3 to win the first singles championship.

HAVING lost to Alton's Volland twice during the regular season, the outcome went according to seedings. The local duo was seeded second while the Redbird duo grabbed the tournament's top seed.

Still, the match was a good one and much closer than the final score in the second set indicates. Bolstered by strong passing shots, Sheridan and Lombardi gave the Redbird duo all they could handle.

"I don't think that we played up to

Quad-City girls fare well in state track meet

Banks Second, Brandt Fourth And Wiser Eleventh

By CHARLIE SKAER
of the Press-Record

CHARLESTON — A second-place finish by Madison's Regina Banks in the 100-meter low hurdles highlighted the performances of Quad-City competitors in the state track finals held Saturday at Eastern Illinois University.

Granite City's Debbie Brandt used her last throw of the day to boost her to a fourth-place finish in the Class AA discus at 122-feet 6-inches and members of Madison's 800-meter medley relay team also claimed fourth-place medals with their time of 1:53.3. Granite City's Lora Wiser finished 11th overall in the Class AA 3200-meter run with a 11:19.1 time.

BANKS completed the hurdles in 15.3 seconds and was edged out at the finish line by Monmouth junior Jan Reichow, who crossed one-tenth of a second before the Madison senior. The last-second loss didn't dampen Banks' spirits.

"I am happy," said Banks, who was all smiles after the race. "It took four years to get this close."

Banks qualified for state in the 100-meter hurdles all four years of her high school career. This year's finish bettered her fourth-place finish last year and equalled her second-place finish her sophomore year. She made a false start her freshman year.

"I KNOW why I lost this race," said Banks after Saturday's race. "I knew I was ahead. I saw I was ahead. At the end I guess I just slowed and let it slip away."

The down-to-the-wire finish left Madison coach Luvenia Long wondering if Banks actually had won the race.

"At the last two hurdles, Regina was taking the lead," said Long. "When she takes the lead, she doesn't lose it."

Long added, "Last year I thought she finished third when they said she finished fourth. But I don't pick the winners. The officials call it the way they see it."

BANKS bettered her sectional time of 16.0 with 15.3 times in both Friday's preliminaries and Saturday's finals. However, her time was slower than her 15.0 finish in last year's finals.

Banks, who will be attending John Jay Junior College next year, admitted after the race that she preferred basketball over track.

"I love basketball," Banks said emphatically, adding that she didn't hold such a fondness for track. "I want to play basketball in junior college for two years and then transfer to somewhere like Indiana."

BRANDT finished fourth in the discus with a throw of 122-feet 6-inches. Just as the Granite City junior saved her best throw for last at the Belleville Sectionals — a 115-foot toss that equaled the qualifying standard for state — Brandt also made her best throws on her final attempts in Friday's semi-finals and Saturday's finals.

"I don't like it," said Brandt about her last-minute comebacks. "But the best throw just seems to fall on the third throw."

"I guess I put more thought into it. I think, 'Well, I gotta do it now.'"

BRANDT wouldn't have made it to Saturday's finals if it hadn't have been for her last throw of 121-feet 4-inches in Friday's preliminaries. Her first throw Friday was a dismal 104-feet 6-inches and her second throw went 114-feet 5-inches.

"I had a goal that I wanted to get in the top 10 this year and get in the top five my senior year," said Brandt. "So next year I'll have to go for one or two."

Brandt will have to pick up more than 10 feet if she plans to win next year's competition. Junior Debbie Rutkowski of Oak Lawn finished first Saturday with a throw of 132-feet 10-inches.

BUT SUCH a feat could be possible for Brandt, who threw about seven feet farther than her 114-feet 10-inch throw at last year's finals in which she finished 16th.

Madison's 800-meter medley relay team, composed of Banks, juniors Cherri Ware and Jowana Dillon and freshman Tammy Deal, ran a 1:53.1 time to finish fourth. The run bettered the team's 1:56.7 time in the Gillespie Sectional, but didn't match the team's 1:52.8 in Friday's preliminaries. Tiskilwa finished first with a 1:51.8 time.

"We came in ranked 9th and finished fourth," said coach Long. "I'm more than satisfied with our performance."

MADISON'S 800-meter relay team didn't qualify for the top eight in Saturday's finals, finishing 17th overall with a 1:49.4 time. Lexington won the finals in 1:46.3. Wiser used a fast start in the first heat of the 3200-meter race to finish 11th in the event. The Granite City sophomore took a lead in the first three laps before Charleston's Molly Jackson passed her. Wiser regained the lead in the fifth lap and stayed in front until Jackson passed her one lap later.

"She went pretty fast in the sixth lap, so I thought she would slow down in the seventh," said Wiser. "I tried to catch up, but she had too much of a lead."

THE TOP eight finishers of the event were in the second heat of the race. Sophomore Melissa Straza, the event's returning champion from Bloomington, finished first in 10:24.4.

Wiser ran her best race of her career Saturday, improving on her 11:28.7 time at the Belleville Sectional. She finished 16th last year at state with a 11:21.9.

She also fulfilled her promise of beating Belleville East's Lisa Jones, who beat Wiser at the sectional but finished 24th overall Saturday.

"SHE (Jones) always does good on her track," explained Wiser, who performed the same feat last year after finishing second to Jones in the sectional.

The team finishes in the Class AA meet were identical to last year's, with East St. Louis Lincoln taking the championship trophy and East St. Louis following in second. In Class A, Teutopolis finished on top and Tiskilwa took second place.

Class AA team results

Warriors stave off Collinsville hurlers, 2-0

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

COLLINSVILLE — Last year, the Collinsville Kahoks' baseball team was a star-studded, senior-riddled cast. By tournament time, those seniors matured into a scrappy bunch of leaders who finished second in the Illinois State High School Class AA state tournament. The Kahoks had a Cinderella season. Not since 1980, the year they won the state tournament, have they had a season like last year's.

"But things are different this year," Kahok Coach Russ Keene is a year older, but more importantly, Keene's Kahoks are collectively, several years younger than last year's team.

SPORTING a seniorless squad, the Kahoks dropped their 18th game of the season Thursday afternoon at Woodland Park's Art Fletcher Field to the resurgent Granite City High Warriors 2-0. The victory was the Warriors' 13th of the season in 20 contests and their 10th in their last 15 games.

After the game, Keene praised his young team saying they're "going through a maturing process."

"We don't have any seniors," Keene began. "Just juniors and sophomores; a lot of young kids. And, many of them are not physically mature, but we hope to get them on the weights."

KNOWING his young team's limitations, Keene defended his team's performance and praised the pitching efforts of Don Peek.

"Don's mainly an infidel, but he does a good job for us on the mound. Although he's only had one win, he's had three really good games for us. Peek struck out five and walked two."

"Our main problem is that we're simply not hitting the ball, we're not getting the bat on the ball," Keene said.

Collinsville picked up just three hits off sophomore hurler Eric Gray, while the Warrior offense managed its two runs on seven hits.

GRAY, incidentally, while going the distance for the Warriors, managed just two strike outs, but did not allow a walk in the game. Gray's efforts ran the Warrior pitching staff's walkless game total to four, and their total games at two passes during the last five ball games.

While Keene didn't have any harsh words for his team, he was, however, critical of the Collinsville Park District for what he called its less than adequate upkeep of Fletcher Field.

"We're supposed to host a regional here next week and frankly, it'd be an embarrassment to the high school and the city for us to hold it here," Keene said.

"THE BASELINES are in miserable condition — you can't run them because there's so much sand. It's simply a matter of pride. If we're going to host a regional we've simply got to have something better to play on," Keene said.

As it turned out, the Kahoks will have something better to play on. The following day, Friday, steps were taken to relocate the regional site from Collinsville to Granite City.

CARBONDALE — Things could have gone better for the Warrior baseball team this weekend as it travelled south, meeting Herrin on Friday and Carbondale on Saturday.

Winning one of three contests, the Warriors dropped two contests in the bottom of the seventh inning, one Friday and the other Saturday.

On Friday, in Herrin, the Warriors were leading the Tigers 5-4 with two outs in the bottom of the seventh inning when Herrin scored three runs on a three-run homer to win 7-4.

Warrior hurler Sam Tate! who went the distance for the Warriors, was tagged for the loss.

AGAINST Carbondale Saturday, the Warriors suffered through the same kind of fate in the first game of a double-header.

Leading 6-1 going into the seventh inning, the Warriors gave up six runs in the seventh as the Terrier bats went on a terror.

ty's Varsity Field, along Fobling Road.

Although the regional site has been changed, the Kahoks will continue to act as the tournament's host. The ensuing sectional tournament, the Granite City High Sectional which begins Saturday, June 2, will also be at Varsity Field.

THE REGIONAL pairings and times, naturally, will remain the same. In the first round, Collinsville will meet Cahokia in Cahokia this Thursday, May 24, at 4 p.m. The winner of that game will meet top seeded East St. Louis Senior at Varsity Field this Saturday, May 26 at 10 a.m. for game two.

Following that game, the Warriors, seeded second, will take to the field to meet third seeded East St. Louis Lincoln. That game, game three, will begin at 12:30 p.m.

The championship game which is slated for Monday, May 28, at noon, will pit the winners of games two and three. The winner of that game will advance to the Granite City High Sectional.

IN THURSDAY'S game, the Warriors took a 1-0 lead in the second inning when Steve Davis, Jim Moulton and Greg Ehlers each conceded for consecutive singles. Ehlers picked up the RBI when his single to right field drove in Davis.

Granite City picked up an insurance run in the sixth inning when Tom Adamitis singled to center field, advanced to second on Gerry

The Terriers scattered seven hits in the inning off reliever Dan Whitsell to come from behind for the win.

Lady Luck befriended the Warriors in the nightcap, though. Winning 8-4, six of the Warriors' eight runs resulted from the long ball.

WARRIOR center fielder Terry Rujavitz broke out of his batting slump as he swatted two round trippers. Shane Cole contributed to the Warrior tally as he belted a three-run homer and sophomore Dennis Gladreault, playing at second for an ailing Randy Thurman, belted a solo homer for the Warriors' fourth four-bagger of the afternoon.

Sophomore hurler Mark Bowen was credited with the win.

The weekend of action adjusts the Warriors' record to 14-17 on the season as they prepare for this weekend's sectional tournament.

Booker's sacrifice bunt, to third on a passed ball and then scored when designated hitter Randy Burgess sacrificed to deep right field.

The Kahoks were not as successful at the plate. In fact, Keene's charges sent just three men to the plate in each of the first five innings before threatening to score in the sixth.

THE KAHOKS' Mark Luczak and Todd Zavaglia each grounded out to Warrior shortstop Ehlers before the Kahoks' Peek and Tim Burgess slapped back-to-back singles to put runners at second and third.

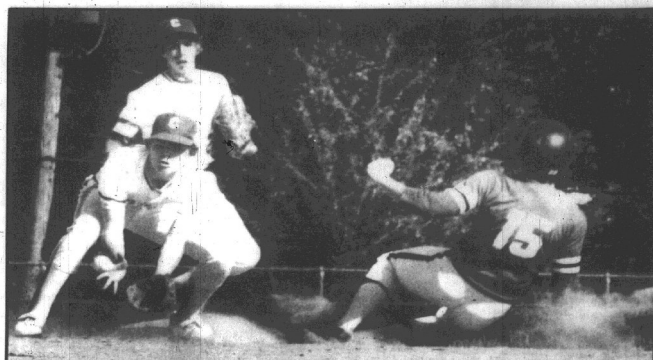

Collinsville, however, was unable to maintain the momentum as second baseman Paul Bilyeu grounded out to third to end the inning.

Interestingly enough, the Kahoks' surge in the sixth closely resembled the Warriors' game last week with Bethalto, a game the Warriors lost 2-1.

The Warriors were ahead in that game, 1-0 before giving up two runs in a two-out sixth inning as the Eagle went on to win.

"YOU noticed that too," began Warrior coach Bob Stegmeyer of the similarity of the two games.

"We're playing good defense, but we're just not getting the hitting like we've had in the past.

IN SAFELY. Tom Adamitis slides safely into third base during the sixth inning of Thursday's non-conference baseball game with Collinsville. Defending on the play is Collinsville's third baseman Todd Zavaglia. Adamitis advanced to third on a passed ball and then scored when Randy Burgess sacrificed to right field. The Warriors won the contest 2-0.

Stegmeyer directed his praise of the Warrior defense at Ehlers, first baseman Davis and third baseman Scott Grote. The Warrior coach cited Grote's play at third base as crucial to stopping the Kahoks' sixth inning scoring threat.

On that play, the Warrior third baseman successfully fielded a hard-hit ball to retire the side.

Following Thursday's contest with the Kahoks, the Warriors went south for three games as they traveled to Herrin on Friday and Carbondale on Saturday for a twinbill with the Terriers (see related story.)

In East Sectional
Robertson, Graves
qualify for state meet

By CHARLIE SKAER
of the Press-Record

BELLEVILLE — Jim Robertson and Eric Graves will be Granite City's two representatives at the boys' state track finals May 26-27 at Eastern Illinois University, in Charleston.

Robertson will compete in the 3200-meter run and Graves will be entered in the high jump and long jump. The two advanced to state after their qualifying performances in the Class AA Sectional held Friday at Eastern Illinois.

Although the sectional was rewarding for Robertson and Graves, the meet proved painful for three Granite City youths who barely missed qualifying for state. Darren Bernaix was just 3.3 slower than the qualifying time in the 1600-meter run. Scott Ballew was five inches short of qualifying in the discus and Paul Smith was 2 1/2 inches shy of meeting the high jump qualification.

ROBERTSON finished second in the 3200-meter run with a 9:25.5 time, four seconds behind winner Tim Ryan of O'Fallon. The Granite City senior expressed relief after the race.

"I felt the pressure all week long, especially the last couple of days," said Robertson, who qualified for the 3200-meter race last year. "But I feel great now."

Robertson said his goal is to finish in the top eight at state, although he admitted he will have to knock off about 10 to 13 seconds from his time. He said such a task may be easier at state because the pressure is gone.

"I'M going up there and nobody knows who I am," said Robertson, who will be attending Illinois State University at Normal next fall. "I'm a better pack runner, too. I don't let anybody get away."

Graves took second-place in the high jump with a 6-foot 8-inch jump and sixth in the long jump with a 6.66-meter leap. Both jumps surpassed the qualifying marks of 6-feet 4 1/2 inches in the high jump and 6.63 meters in the long jump.

The track meet wasn't as kind to others from Granite City.

When Bernaix crossed the finish line as the winner in the first heat of the 1600-meter run, he immediately looked up at coach Pete Robinson in the nearby stands.

"NINE twenty-eight," shouted Robinson.

A look of disappointment came over Bernaix's face. He needed a 9:25 time to qualify for state or a first- or second-place finish. Runners in the second heat — the faster competitors — took all five places in the event.

Bernaix's disappointment was doubled because a day earlier he found out he was just one second away from making the faster heat.

"I was 100 yards ahead of everybody in the first heat," said Bernaix, whose closest competitor finished 15 seconds behind him. "I would have had someone to push me in the fast heat. I know I could have qualified."

But the junior added, "I'll be there next year."

Such words couldn't come from Scott Ballew and Paul Smith. The two seniors finished their high school careers Friday, both inched out of the state finals.

Monday SPORTSAt Tri-City Speedway
Null racks up another pair of winsBy JOE SENTER
for the Press-Record

Mike Null seems to be the man to beat in the modified class race cars at Tri-City Speedway in Granite City.

Null, driving a modified Camaro 550, won last week's feature event, Trophy Dash and Heat Race and looked like he was going to repeat this week by starting out winning the Heat Race/Trophy Dash, but then the rains came washing out the feature events of all three classes of cars.

Null, from Hazelwood, Mo., has been driving race cars for many years—late model stock cars and modifieds.

Following Null across the finish line in the Heat Race was Charlie Johnson of Waterloo and Ralph Southard of Madison. In the Trophy Dash it was Johnson and Southard in second and third.

In the Sportsman Class it was Lou Pritz of O'Fallon taking the first Heat Race with Paul Humphrey Sr. of Mitchell, second and Paul Humphrey Jr. of Mitchell third. Jesse Barnett of Granite City was fourth.

Pritz also took the Trophy Dash with Joe Medlock of Kirkwood, Mo. second and Humphrey Sr. third, while Humphrey Jr. was fourth.

Charlie-Pee-Wee-Morris of Belleville, Ill. took the Street Stock Heat Race with Butch Argus second and Steve Kukurula third.

Extra laps will be run next Saturday night to make up for the rained-out feature events.

Sammy Swindell of Bartlett, Tenn. took the World-Outlaws Sprint Cars 3-lap feature event Wednesday night at the Speedway.

Swindell started outside of front row alongside Doug Wolfgang but at the drop of the green it led Wolfgang that took the lead and led until lap 12. Swindell, however, managed to overtake Wolfgang for the victory.

Sveda gets tourney 'Big Bass' award

A 28-year-old Granite City man won the "Big Bass Award" during fishing competition Sunday, May 6, at Kinkaid Lake in Murphysboro.

Keith Sveda, a construction worker who lives in Granite City, won the fishing award in the Illini Division of the Red Man Tournament Trail Fishing Tournament for the 6 lb. 13 oz. bass he caught during competition.

Sveda, who used a brown and orange jig and pig as bait, won $1,200 for his first place catch. There were 307 fishermen entered in that division of the tournament.

Greg Darnell of Quincy captured $3,857.50 with a 10-lb. 12-oz. catch.

Darnell, 34, caught a tourney limit of seven bass using a six-inch brown and orange Lucky Strike lizard and Strike King spinner bait. He was fishing among timber in one to three feet of water on the Water Plant arm of Kinkaid. Darnell works as an insulator.

Another Quincy man, Phil Zimmerman, placed second in the event with three bass weighing 9-lbs. 2-oz. Zimmerman, a 31-year-old tavern owner, won $1,019. He used a brown and orange jig and frog in shallow water among timber on the Water Plant arm of the lake.

A previous winner in Red Man tournaments, John Wright of Effingham, finished third with five bass weighing 8-lbs. 12-oz. Wright won $1,121 using a Cordelle Red Fin among mossy flats on the Water Plant arm of Kinkaid.

Wright, a 32-year-old printer, was the winner of the first Illini Division tournament on Rend Lake, April 1 and the Land Between the Lakes tourney held April 15 on Percy Priest Reservoir near Nashville, Tenn.

Fourth place went to George Lid-die Jr. of Alsip who caught 8-lbs. 1-oz. of fish to win $491. He had four bass. Liddle, 26, is the assistant manager of the Liddle Auto and Marine Repair shop.

Roger Reese of Chatham and Tom Will of Dewey tied for fifth place. Both men caught four bass weighing a total of 8-lbs. to win $341.50 each. Reese, 37, owns R.W. Bradley Supply Co. Willard is a 35-year-old construction worker.

The Illini Division is one of 15 geographical divisions that make up the fishing tournament. The third Illini tournament will be held June 10 on Lake Shelbyville. Entry deadline is May 30.

To enter, call or write Operation Bass, Rt. 2, Box 74B, Gilbertsville, Ky. 42044. Telephone (502) 362-4880. Entry fees for the one-day events are $50 each, and a fisherman must join Operation Bass. One hundred percent of the entry money is paid back as cash awards along the trail.

Corral Loses To Nokomis
Old Timers game ends in drawBy AL BARNES
for the Press-Record

A light mist fell as the Old Timers' fast-pitch softball game at Wilson Park got underway Sunday before a goodly sized crowd of appreciative fans.

There were at least a thousand memories as the fast-pitch softball stars were introduced and each squar lined up, town both the three and first base paths to the cheers of wives, sons and daughters and literally hundreds of grandchildren. Two old ex-teammates, Ralph Burnett and Gene Cox managed the two squads of Old timers. Pitching for the Burnetts were Von Dee Cruse, Neil Melton and Norm Grote.

On the mound for the Cox squad were Leo Six, Satch Page and Dick Portel.

Stars at the plate for the Burnetts were Jack Scarborough, Sr., Norm Grote, Norm Brokaw and Bob Stegemeyer. Starting with the bat for the Cox team were Dick Portel, Al Kutzer, Gai Lignoul and Mick Shaus.

Many sparkling plays on the infield were turned in. Looking very good on a hot smash to third base was Walter (Shang) Greathouse. Introduced to the large crowd but not taking the field were Granite City Mayor Paul Shuler and Nellie Hagauer.

The game, as Old Timers game should, ended in a tie, this time by a 6-6 score.

The Old Timers game was staged between Granite City's Corral Lagoon team and the Nokomis, Ill. Buds. The visitors won both games, 8-4, and 6-3.

The moisture in the eyes of the Old Timers at the end of the game, wasn't caused by the falling rain but by the fond memories of days and feasts of long ago.

our ability," Sheridan explained afterwards. "They're good, and this makes the third time this season that they've beaten us. They deserved to win."

"But, we're happy. We've won the sectional and we're going to state. That's been our goal all season long," said Sheridan who will make his fourth trip to the state tournament this weekend.

Lombardi, who is much improved over last year, had less to say after the loss and instead offered an explanation for his improved play. "I've taken lessons during the winter and they've helped to improve my game, make me more confident on the court," Lombardi said.

A sophomore, Lombardi looks to be the future of the Warrior tennis team. His agility on the court and ability to make the difficult shots should make him one of the best high school tennis players in the area next year.

ONE PERSON Lombardi will have to contend with next year will be Alton-Marquette's Chris McNeill, the sectional's top-seeded singles player who didn't disappoint anyone as he zipped to the singles championship beating Wood River's Rick Kuehnle 6-0, 7-5. McNeill, incidentally, is a freshman.

In addition to Lipe, Lombardi and Sheridan, the rest of the Warrior team didn't do too bad either. Jeff Rush, the Warriors' other tournament singles player, did an admirable job in his first round, defeating Jerseyville's Seenu Sarma 6-2, 6-0.

RUSH, however, found competition much more difficult in the second round as McNeill shunned the Warrior netter in straight sets 6-0, 6-0.

Granite City's second doubles team met with a similar fate. After defeating Roxana's Brian Haug and Mark Batson, Jerry Lakin and Dave Warfield fell to the Volland 6-4, 5-2.

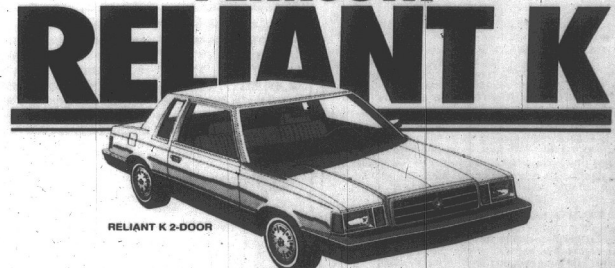

Still much the delight of Warrior Coach Dick Harmon, the Warriors accumulated enough points to win the sectional.

"I told them (his team) after the seeding meeting that if we played up to our ability and our seedings we could win, and we did. We played head-to-head tennis with everyone and won," Harmon said Saturday.

THE SECTIONAL championship ended a two-year dry spell for the Warriors. Having last won the sectional in 1981, the Warriors were edged out the sectional championship the last two years (1982 and 83) by Wood River.

By virtue of their team victory, the Warrior sectional team will advance to this year's state tournament in Arlington Heights. Action begins Thursday afternoon.

The proposed changes in gas rates provide a $13.9 decrease in gas utility revenues, not including add-on taxes. The revenue decrease results in the following percentage changes for various service classifications: Residential Gas Service, 0%; Commercial/Industrial Gas Service, (5.4%); and Seasonal Gas Service, (2.9%).

The proposed change in gas rates involves adjustments of metered volumes for customers with a delivery pressure greater than 12 inches water column. A copy of the proposed changes in schedules may be inspected by any interested party at any business office of the Company.

All parties interested in this matter may obtain information with respect thereto either directly from this Company or by addressing the Chief Clerk of the Illinois Commerce Commission, Springfield, Illinois 62706.
